Johnson Opens Campaign

Solid On Rights In Florida Talk

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Johnson opened his 1964 election campaign by taking a solid stand for civil rights before a Southern audience.

He also shook hands with street-corner crowds, paid a visit to the father of the late President John F. Kennedy in Palm Beach, cuffed the Republicans, and generally seemed to enjoy himself on a quick, four-stop trip to a hotel nightclub to see the entertainers Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse.

Johnson told 3,000 fellow Democrats at a fund-raising dinner Thursday night that "full participation in our society can no longer be reserved to men of one color."

"The administration," he said, "intends to press forward with legislation, with education and with action until we have eliminated the last barrier of intolerance." The applause was modest.

Four times, Johnson was applauded when he said that all Americans—regardless of color, region or religion—have certain constitutional rights and human rights that must be respected. But, to observers on the sidelines, it appeared that about half the audience sat still and silent.

Miami Beach was the fourth stop on Johnson's Florida tour. He flew from Washington to Jacksonville Naval Air Station where, after shaking a few hands, he proceeded by helicopter to Palatka to break ground for the cross-Florida barge canal that will link the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

After returning to the air station, Johnson flew by jet transport to Palm Beach, where he paid a courtesy call on ailing Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the late president. Then Johnson, his wife and two daughters boarded a helicopter and followed the coast to Miami Beach.

Ex-Sedalian Retiring From Railroad Post

Fred G. Gurley, a former Sedalian and member of the board of directors of the Santa Fe Railway since 1942, is retiring March 1, under the company's policy for directors' tenure.

Young Hope First Choice For Kidnap

Agent Testifies In Sinatra Kidnap Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—As Frank Sinatra Jr., waited in a nearby witness room, an FBI agent testified in federal court that the son of Bob Hope—not young Sinatra—was first choice of a kidnap plot.

FBI Agent Emmett Murphy testified Thursday and Barry Keenan told him that he first thought of abducting Tony Hope, 23, Harvard law student, but quickly abandoned the idea. Murphy quoted Keenan as saying "Bob Hope was such a good American and had done so much in entertaining the troops, this shouldn't be done to Bob Hope."

Keenan later told a newsman that he and Tony Hope were once school chums in St. John's Military Academy in suburban Chatsworth.

In Las Vegas, Nev., the senior Hope said of the testimony, "It's a terrible thing. I guess if it had happened, I would have followed the same routine as Frank (Sr.)."

In another disclosure, FBI Agent Robert E. Russell quoted defendant Joseph Amsler as saying that the original Sinatra kidnap plot was scheduled the night of Nov. 22, 1963—the night of President Kennedy's assassination.

Russell quoted Amsler as saying the assassination was up set John Irwin, the third defendant, that the whole thing was called off.

Keenan and Amsler, both 23, and Irwin, 42, are accused of kidnaping the 20-year-old son of the singing star from his Lake Tahoe motel room last Dec. 8.

Second Phase Of Urban Plan Work Is Near

The second phase of the Sedalia Urban Street Improvement Plan became nearer a reality today when the State Highway Commission issued a bid call for the improvement from New York to the MoPac Railroad underpass near the east city limits.

The improvement runs from New York along Broadway to Marshall, then curves southeast to the underpass.

The bid call states that bids on the improvement will be received at the commission offices until 10 a.m. March 26, and at that time the bids will be publicly opened and read.

The bid call calls for "Grading, constructing culverts, storm sewers, and a concrete pavement 48 feet wide with eight-foot auxiliary lanes on part of the improvement (along Broadway) and with stabilized shoulders on part, together with incidental construction on the road from New York easterly, a total length of 1,235 miles."

Minuteman Flight Is Operational

First Missiles Of Area Complex Ready To Fire

The first flight of ten missiles in the 150-missile Minuteman complex in this Central Missouri area became operational in a brief ceremony at noon today.

According to the Whiteman AFB information office, the first flight of Wing 4, Minuteman Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, was turned over to the Strategic Air Command at WAFB at noon. Col. William E. Ruark, commander of the Site Activation Task Force at Whiteman, signed over the flight of ten missiles to the 351st Strategic Missile Wing. Col. George T. Chadwell, commander of the 351st SMW, accepted the flight at the ceremony, held at SATF headquarters.

Under the command of the 351st SMW, the first ten missiles will be operated by the 508th Strategic Missile Squadron, commanded by Col. Walter T. Eisenbrow.

A total of 15 flights, or 150 missiles, will go into operation by the 351st SMW later this year, the base spokesman said. SATF officials indicate the intensive SATF program is on schedule.

The missiles began to arrive at Whiteman in mid-January and the first one was placed in one of the underground silos south of Marshall on Jan. 16.

Although not a confirmed fact, it is believed the flight placed in a "ready to fire" status is in the immediate Sedalia area since the first missiles to arrive at the base were being "planted" in this area.

Indications are that the Sedalia area missile work will be completed around Aug. 1. Leases for the Industrial Park area and the Missile Manor mobile park in Thompson Hills expire on that date, although the Boeing Company has six-months options on both pieces of property, according to local reliable sources.

Tenth Juror Picked For Ruby's Trial

DALLAS (AP)—The 10th juror was accepted today for Jack Ruby's murder trial. Two more are needed to complete the jury.

He was J. Waymon Rose, 40, former Navy pilot and now a furniture salesman.

Rose said he was born in Chattanooga, Tenn., is married and has three children, and is a Presbyterian.

He said he sat as a juror in a civil case 12 years ago and also on two courts-martial while he was in the Navy.

He said he saw the televised scene when Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald Nov. 24. Ruby is charged with murder with malice and faces a possible sentence of death in the electric chair. Oswald had been charged with assassinating President Kennedy.

Rose told chief defense counsel Melvin Belli when asked about the televised scene, "I have a reasonable memory of the event over-all but I wouldn't be able to recognize Ruby."

Judge Joe B. Brown swore in a new group of prospective jurors today.

Under Texas law, only 12 jurors are sworn. Should one become incapacitated during the hearings, a mistrial would be called.

Newsman were barred today while the new group was being impaneled.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli said that, despite the delay, attorneys hope to complete the jury and begin hearing testimony Monday morning.

To find the first nine jurors, 110 persons were questioned through Thursday. Originally, 150 jury candidates were made available. Some were excused before the trial began Feb. 17. Only 26 of that list remained available as today's session started.

BULLETIN

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Owner Charles O. Finley today signed a four-year lease for use by the Kansas City Athletics of Municipal Stadium.

Signing three copies of the lease under the glare of lights at a press conference, Finley said: "This is not a phoney document."

The action apparently ends more than two months of bitter controversy between the baseball magnate and Kansas City officials over whether the Athletics would remain in Kansas City.

Presidential Command Sends 31 Agents South

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The FBI will send a chief inspector and a force of 30 agents to crack down on violence in the Florida East Coast Railway strike.

The action was sparked by presidential command following the dynamiting of a train near where President Johnson was speaking.

Johnson asked Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to confer today with Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, then present recommendations for federal action.

Also, at Johnson's request, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover dispatched a top-notch inspector to head an FBI crackdown on the sabotage.

"This criminal action has got to stop," the President declared as he departed from what had been a purely political address to a Democratic fund-raising dinner Thursday night.

"I am not passing judgment on who is right or who is wrong," Johnson said. "But as the leader and spokesman for all the people of this nation, I am saying that you cannot take the law into your own hands."

Johnson was late appearing at the banquet and apologized, saying he had been conferring with Hoover and Wirtz.

Railroad officials list more than 200 acts of sabotage since the strike began Jan. 23, 1963. The violence started after the road began moving freight with nonunion help about six weeks after the walkout.

The tempo picked up three months ago after a presidential emergency board recommended that the road give its 1,300 off-train workers the raise they asked, and the road refused.

The latest two explosions, the fourth and fifth this month—occurred within a few miles of each other near St. Augustine.

Big Line-up For Cyprus 'Police Jobs'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Hundreds of Greek Cypriots lined up at police stations today in answer to President Makarios' appeal for volunteers for a special 5,000-man police force.

The force will legalize thousands of Greek Cypriot irregulars, many of them remnants of the old Eoka underground which fought for independence from the British.

As applications were accepted three days after Makarios announced creation of the force, Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriot minority, called the move "an attempt to give legality to Greek terrorist hordes."

As a member of the government, Kuchuk said the force could not be ordered without his approval. Since the renewed outbreak of communal fighting last December, Turkish Cypriot ministers have boycotted the Cyprus Ministerial Council, leaving the government in the hands of Makarios and the Greek Cypriot majority.

Nightly Curfew In Maryland After Violence

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—A nightly curfew is in effect for persons under 21 years old at Princess Anne, scene of racial demonstrations and violence.

The curfew, imposed by the town commissioners, went into effect at 9:15 Thursday night and by 11 the sidewalks were virtually empty.

A meeting of town and Somerset County officials was scheduled for tonight. The racial issue erupted Wednesday into a battle between students at nearby Maryland State College and police.

About 130 State Police were called to Princess Anne to keep the peace.

John Wilson, chairman of the Student Appeal For Equality, the student group that is leading the demonstrations, told a Negro rally in nearby Salisbury that he and other student leaders would go to Annapolis Monday and meet with Gov. J. Milford Tawes and other top legislators.

Seeking Data On Residents Here In 1840

History Group Compiling Early Pettis Data

Are you a descendant of a resident of Pettis County in 1840? The United States census of 1840, completed Oct. 13 that year, was the first population schedule for the county. The first Missouri census was in 1830. Pettis County was not formed until 1833 so residents who lived in this area in 1830 were included in either Cooper or Saline County lists.

A project of the Genealogical Committee of the Pettis County Historical Society is to compile family information sheets for these early families. These sheets when completed will be available for public use.

The three county histories were all published after 1880 and many of these early families are not included in biographical sketches. The committee has completed about one third of these information sheets. Sources were from 1850 census of Pettis County, records in county seat towns in Missouri, Virginia and Kentucky, cemetery records, Bible records, early land entries in county and published records from various sources.

This information consists of names of husband and wife, their parents and list of children in the home. Usually the maiden name of the wife is known. Places of birth and death also dates are given when known as well as marriage dates.

The information from the 1840 census is on 13 pages. Usually the names are from a certain township area although sometimes different areas are included on the same page. The head of the household is listed and members of the household are listed in age bracket groups. Listing of the slaves is on another page.

Descendants of early families who have been contacted have furnished very complete information. It is known that some of these families moved away from the county even before 1850, some going to Texas, California.

Grand Jury Doesn't Indict Dallas Woman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas County grand jury declined Thursday to indict a woman who shot at a man she thought was senatorial candidate Gordon McLendon.

A no-bill on the assault to murder charge against Elizabeth Stone, expected in the grand jury's Monday report, will clear the way for lunacy court action in her case, the Dallas News said.

Mrs. Stone, 48, was arrested at Dallas Love Field Feb. 19 after she fired a pistol at W. W. Dyer, 40, of Dallas as he boarded an airplane for Chicago.

She told police she thought Dyer was McLendon and she believed the Dallas radio man was a crime syndicate leader.

A talk on the background of Communism, how its exponents operated in the past and their methods today was given by Judge Alden Stockard, of the Missouri Supreme Court, Jefferson City, before fellow Kiwanians at a meeting of the Sedalia club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker also gave a short historical sketch on George Washington and told of the voluminous biographical records available about him in the Library of Congress.

Judge Stockard was introduced by Robert Fritz, program chairman, who was presented a certificate of appreciation by President M. L. Edwards in recognition of the excellent programs he arranged during February.

Invocation was by John Ryan. Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Mrs. Keith Maynard, accompanist. Birthday greetings were sung for Victor Scott.

As an aftermath of the club's pancake day ticket sales, the losing teams were supposed to eat beans and the winning team steaks at the meeting but President Edwards announced beans were not available so everybody ate steaks.

On behalf of the club, President Edwards presented a framed certificate of appreciation and a cake inscribed "555" to A. H. Wilks who sold that number of tickets for pancake day, a record exceeding one-third of the total number of tickets sold by the entire membership.

George Ray, chairman of Pancake Day, reported the following results of the ticket sale: Capt. William Schien's team, $442; Capt. Morton Wittig's team, $371.50; Capt. John W. St. Clair's team, $855.50, for a total of $1,669.00. Net proceeds were $1,154.33 which will be used for the club's charitable and educational activities.

Guests were: Kiwanian Robert S. Fryer, Lawrence, Kan.; Judge Frank Armstrong with Mr. Fritz; and L. E. Moody, Jefferson City, with L. R. Hughes.

Loveland Loses Its
Big Cardboard Hearts

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Twenty-eight hearts have been stolen in Loveland, which calls itself America's Sweetheart City.

Manager Mike Deuth of the Chamber of Commerce said 27 big cardboard hearts were posted on light poles prior to Valentine's Day and that only 44 are still up.

A few of the red hearts, with words of affection in poetry, have been found in college fraternity houses.

(Continued from Page One) fonia, Oregon and also to other counties in the state. Little information is available concerning these groups.

Will you help in completion of these records? So that you may know the family names a listing of names as given on the different pages will be given in news articles in this paper from time to time.

The first page (33 in census book) includes names of residents of Georgetown (original county seat town) and residents of farms east and north of the Georgetown area. Albion Roberson was the assistant marshal of the census and his report was attested by Abijah Hughes, justice of the peace. Several of the family names are familiar: George Heard was father of John T. Heard whose Sedalia residence is now a club house.

Descendants of the Heard family, Absalom McVey, Henry Rector, Thomas Wasson, Thomson and Bouldin families are in area. Family histories have been compiled for Courtney, Ellis, Gentry and Thomson groups. Clifton and Watson Wood, brothers, were from Albemarle County, Virginia. The Greer families were from Franklin County, Virginia.

Information is sought on these early county residents: Willis T. Ellis, William J. Westerfield, Albion Roberson, Absalom McVey, George Heard, Samuel C. Potts, Jesse Moss, James R. Tanner, John D. Fishback, Clifton Wood, Wilkins Watson, Watson Wood, Ezra Johnson, Oswald Kidd, William Bracht, Samuel Leeper, William McCormick.

Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Today when I read the letter about the 16-year-old girl who was ashamed of her retarded brother I nearly cried.

I am 15 and have a little 6-year-old brother who is also mentally retarded. He is the most lovable little kid I know. Everyone in our family showers him with affection and he returns it ten-fold.

You are right, Ann, when you say it is the responsibility of the parents to educate the other members of the family, but they must first be educated themselves, and not all parents are. I was glad when you told them to write to the National Association For Mental Retardation for literature, because that's exactly what my folks did.

I have presented numerous reports on this subject at school and have taught my classmates a lot. Mental retardation, like epilepsy and other brain disorders, is just now emerging from the dark ages of ignorance. The only weapon against ignorance is education. Thank you for helping, Ann.—NOT ASHAMED

No Partisan
Politics In Rusk Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite an initial quick clash with Republican critics of administration foreign policy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk says he intends to avoid partisan political activities in this presidential campaign year.

But Rusk told a news conference that he cannot help "talking about foreign policy" during the next several months. What he will do, he said, is discuss foreign affairs issues "on a national basis, a bipartisan basis."

Rusk said in response to questions that "it's the desire of the President — the traditional desire of presidents—not to have the secretary of state take part in partisan political activities—and that suits my own personal attitude very well."

How fully he can succeed in this goal is unclear, however, because his news conference at the State Department Thursday afternoon brought questions of a kind he is certain to face more and more as the "grand inquest," as he called it, of policy discussion develops during this campaign season.

He was asked directly whether he would agree with a statement which the questioner attributed to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican presidential nomination contender, that the administration is deliberately hiding the facts of the war in Vietnam from the American people.

He was also asked whether Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, was correct in saying that administration policy for Vietnam is an enigma.

Such charges from the opposition party are beginning to bring home to Johnson administration leaders that they probably face a major debate over the President's handling of foreign policy.

"I don't believe," Rusk said, "that our policy is an enigma. And as far as the facts are concerned, we get a very heavy flow of facts from there (Vietnam). I think they are made public out there and back here. There are some situations, of course, which you don't talk about."

"But I think the fact that there is concern in this country about the upsurge of Viet Cong (Red guerrilla) activity in the last three or four months represents the fact that the people have been informed that there is a problem, and it must be dealt with."

Shipping Insistence
Could Cancel Sales

DENVER (AP)—Sales of wheat to Russia will halt if the United States insists on having 50 per cent of the wheat shipped in American vessels, a major seller said Thursday.

"It's just plain foolish to expect the Soviet Union to pay the $8 to $9 freight differential per ton which shipping in U.S. ships adds to freight costs," said Ben H. Nordemann of New York City.

Nordemann, head of the wheat sales division of Continental Grain Co., spoke at a meeting of Colorado wheat growers and grain dealers.

Dear Not Ashamed: You are making the best of a golden opportunity to enrich the lives of those around you. God bless you, Honey, and God bless your parents. Because of their wisdom you are compassionate and understanding, instead of ignorant and bitter.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the man who signed himself "Mere Male" should be reproduced and handed to every young groom—along with his marriage certificate. In my opinion, it's the classic example of what ails the American husband.

This man wrote you a pathetic letter saying he didn't want much out of life, just a few small considerations—like getting the newspaper in readable condition. He complained that by the time the rest of the family got through with the paper it wasn't fit to wrap garbage in.

You—a newspaper woman to the end—ignored the central problem and suggested a second subscription.

Don't you see this is precisely what is wrong with the American home? The females run everything. The father-husband is supposed to pay the bills, keep the gas tank filled and his trap shut. I am sure you KNOW all this Ann Landers so—why don't you live up to your responsibility and say it!—ANOTHER ONE.

Dear One: You are right and I apologize. But I've said it so many times I didn't want to be a bore. In my first book, "Since You Ask Me," there's a chapter called, "Father Or Cash Register." I said it for 10 pages.

In the Landers column I repeatedly pointed out what the male's position in the family SHOULD be.

Unfortunately, many men want to be dominated and pushed around and these males invariably find a woman who is happy to oblige.

Dear Ann Landers: I am still burning over the letter from "New Wrinkle"—the cat who was sure the girl who wore the same dress to work on Friday that she wore on Thursday did not sleep at home that night. The column was the day's principal topic of discussion around the office.

As a protest against such cheap gossip I have worn the same dress to work every day this week. Nobody noticed until today — Friday. This morning three people kidded me because I am wearing the same dress to day that I had on yesterday. So, Ann, it seems the only point that got through their wooden heads is to check Friday's dress against Thursday's.

My tip to you girls who may be sitting up all night with a sick friend (or a well one, for that matter) is NEVER on Thursday. —IN THE KNOW.

Dear In: You should have ended the last sentence after the word never.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Poker, Diplomacy Dying?

"Do they have any poker games around here?" a newcomer to town casually asked a fellow lodge member while both were sipping a can of beer.

The answer was negative. Poker isn't played here anymore. Gin rummy, knock rummy, bridge — yes, but poker won't attract four, six or eight players anymore. Some of the old timers are dying off; those remaining wish they could interest some younger fellows in the game but the latter won't be persuaded.

What's happening to the old poker game? What's happened to the old phrase, "He's a good poker player," once considered a high compliment from friends or enemy. It meant that the individual was shrewd, kept his own counsel, was a fair but tough bargainer.

Now out of the wilderness of the modern world, we are told, there comes a voice crying that the great old American game of poker is dying.

History Professor John Lukacs claims the game in its pure form is seldom played nowadays and warns that its disappearance is being accompanied by the disappearance of certain worth-while qualities in the American character; self-reliance, dash, and "that loose-limbed, easy-going, natural elegance of action characteristic of Americans."

Writing in Horizon magazine, Lukacs blamed poker's decline on three factors.

These are (1) the rise to independence of women, who Lukacs claims are notoriously poor gamblers; (2) servicemen, who use the game merely as a relief from boredom and have replaced the art and skill of the game with chancy gimmicks; and (3) military strategists, who analyze the game to death, break it down to bits and pieces that can be fed to a computer, and thus eliminate the human factor and the game's subtlety and excitement.

The professor is afraid that the deterioration of poker is a sign that Americans are losing their individuality in the face of the pressures of modern society.

Could it be that some of the diplomatic reverses America has suffered at international "poker" tables have something to do with this?

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS: LBJ The Strong

— Word leaks out of the White House to explain why President Johnson applied such heavy pressure to get authority to give the Russians credit in a wheat deal. He feared that otherwise Khrushchev would consider him a "weak" President and start probing for his resistance point.

This privately spoken plea might have been serviceable in Mr. Johnson's future dealings with Congress. It is interesting, therefore, to guess why it is divulged, and hence rendered impotent. The disclosure probably represents an effort to allay congressional resentment over the harsh discipline of the final days.

Mr. Johnson is too shrewd a strategist to suppose that Congress is going to bow to all his future wishes just to make him look strong to Khrushchev. If he tried it again, he would probably be reminded of the time-honored formula for being an irresistible leader. That is to find out where people are going and then get out in front.

More Diplomats Involved In Dope Ring

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is making a political survey in the west. In his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The sensational arrests of two ambassadors one in 1960, the other last week, may lead to still bigger catches. For they aren't the only foreign ambassadors who have been using their diplomatic immunity to smuggle dope into this country.

Narcotics agents are hot on the trail of other diplomats, high in the chanceries of friendly governments, who have formed a fantastic alliance with the underworld. Lured by the rustle of greenbacks, they have been delivering dope from France's notorious Corsican gang too America's infamous Mafia.

First to be nabbed was Guatemala's ambassador to Belgium, Mauricio Rosal, who was caught in 1960 with $20,000,000 worth of heroin in his luggage. His apprehension led, after a three-year vigil, to the arrest last weekend of Mexico's ambassador to Bolivia, Salvador Pardo-Bolland.

Narcotics agents trailed Pardo-Bolland to New York City directly from his rendezvous with the racketeers in southern France. During the tryst, he posed as Suarez de Mendoza using a phony passport he had issued to himself.

He resumed his diplomatic identity for the flight to New York but he loaded his luggage with liquor instead of heroin. Agents believe the liquor was a decoy to throw them off the trail of the heroin which had been slipped to a former Uruguayan diplomat named Juan Aritzi.

Undercover Agents

The porter who hustled Pardo-Bolland's bags at Kennedy International Airport was a Negro agent; the cab that took him to his hotel was driven by another agent. During the 40-minute drive the agent tried to draw Pardo-Bolland into a conversation.

The unsuspecting ambassador claimed he had come to New York City for a vacation, boasted he had once been "a champion swimmer," told of his American wife, the former Marie Cole of New Orleans.

After settling in his hotel, Pardo-Bolland inquired at another fashionable hotel for Rene Bruchon, seemed alarmed to learn that Bruchon was not registered. Immediately the ambassador fired an anxious cable to his underworld contact in France: "Cousin not at expected address."

While he waited for a reply, he passed the time watching two risqué movies, "The Fourth Sex" and "Secrets of a French Nurse."

Multimillion Luggage

Aritzi checked his luggage, containing $13,500,000 worth of heroin, in an airport locker. Agents trailing him reported that for three successive days he made regular visits to a cathedral to light candles.

This gave the Canadian Mounted Police time to open his luggage and substitute flour for the heroin, except for a few ounces that were left in his suitcases as evidence.

Upon word from Pardo-Bolland, Aritzi caught a train for New York City. He was met at Pennsylvania station by the same Negro porter who had carried Pardo-Bolland's bags at the Kennedy airport.

Meanwhile, the Mexican ambassador had received a cable explaining that his underworld contact in New York City, Rene Bruchon, was using the name John Francis Larroux.

Of the hundreds of hotels in New York City, Bruchon was hiding out in the same one that off-duty narcotics agents were using as a place to relax. The agents working on the case had taken rooms 4923-25 as an off-duty hangout.

Man Across the Hall

Directly across the hall, believe it or not, Bruchon was registered as Larroux in room 4924. The agents had exchanged friendly greetings with him and had even joined him for a drink at the hotel bar before they realized who he was.

Once the cast of characters was complete, the agents quietly and efficiently rounded them up. Only the Corsican ring-leaders escaped the net in France. One of them, Gilbert Coscia, is reported to be in Switzerland. He was the one who supplied the heroin to both ambassadors, Rosal in 1960 and Pardo-Bolland in 1964.

Still other ambassadors are known to be linked with his international smuggling ring. As for the two diplomats who were nabbed last week, a narcotics agent remarked: "It's lucky for them we picked them up. If they had turned that flour over to the Mafia, there would have been two dead diplomats."

Note—Informants report that the Corsicans and Sicilians, who long ago founded rival criminal societies in the Mediterranean, have now become cousins in crime. The Sicilians brought the Mafia, or Cosa Nostra as they more tenderly call it, to the United States where it has acquired an octopus-hold on the American rackets.

Asks Understanding for Critics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, criticized for the way he criticized his critics, is a little more restrained with them now. And his foreign policy for Southeast Asia sounds a little less ominous.

Earlier this month, after Republicans had jumped on his foreign policy, Johnson made an off-the-cuff talk to some government employees. He didn't mention Republicans.

But he hit at his critics as "alarmists and people who like to jump on their government." He called them "much of a problem as our other enemies" and said "God forgive them, for they know not what they do."

He described them as "belly-achers" and told his listeners "we are a much beloved people throughout the world." He got a bad reaction, particularly for bracketing his critics "with our other enemies."

The President took a much different line Thursday night in a speech to Democrats in Miami when he said "to those who cry havoc and shout for war, we must give understanding. We have always welcomed dissent. We would not muzzle disagreement."

He also took a tough line last week in a California speech—again without naming names—when he struck at those responsible for the guerrilla war against the American-backed government of South Viet Nam.

"Those engaged in external direction and supply," he said, "would do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

Several things were left unclear. Was he aiming at the Chinese Reds for help given the North Vietnamese Reds? Was he just thinking of the North Vietnamese? Or was he hinting at a change in American policy in Viet Nam and a much fiercer war, perhaps carried into Communist territory?

Immediately his words were interpreted by some as indicating a tougher policy toward North Viet Nam, the beginning of American psychological warfare against it, and even that U.S. reprisals might be in store.

Then the Russians got into the act with a warning to this country not to extend the guerrilla war into Red territory. In such a case, they said, they would help the North Vietnamese. And, if they did, it might heal their split with Red China.

But it quickly began to appear that this administration didn't have any new policy on Viet Nam for it created a committee this week to examine the problem and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is going there to examine it close-up.

And Thursday Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a news conference dumped cold water on any idea of invading North Viet Nam now. He said any question of carrying the war into Red territory "is for the future."

This sounded much milder than Johnson's warning to those unnamed people that they were "playing a dangerous game."

We the Women

Advice for the Bride

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some young wives suffer needlessly from imagined slights from their husbands. Their unhappiness could be avoided if they would accept the truth about the men they married.

A bride should realize:

That her husband may often seem unsympathetic or disinterested in her problems not because he doesn't love her as much as she loves him, but because the same things aren't as important to men as they are to women.

That the surest way for a wife to make her husband happy and contented with his lot is for her to be happy herself.

That it is a wife's job to see that a marriage doesn't go stale. It's up to her to plan a social life they both enjoy, to see that they keep making new friends, to set up some goals they can strive for, to always have something planned in advance that they can look forward to with happy anticipation.

That a woman can often "sit out" a bad time or unhappy period if she has the good sense to keep her mouth shut and wait for time to straighten things out.

That laughter, not tears, is a woman's best weapon.

That the fewer questions she asks, the more she will be told.

That if she rebels against the demands of her husband's job she will build up a wall between her husband and herself.

That one thing every wife should learn is how to be alone without being lonely.

That beauty may have gotten her a husband, but beauty alone won't hold him. A contented, happy companion will.

What They Say In Letters to Editor

CHARLES JARRETT (1022 West Third Street)—After reading your editorial, urging stern attitude of the United States on the international scene, I am inclined to agree with you. Our forefathers fought for something which we, as so-called good Americans, are letting slip through our fingers. This SOMETHING is peace and freedom.

But what price are we going to pay for it now? Is this country going to sit by and let on aggressive nation slowly eat up the world with its dictatorial plague? Are we, as AMERICANS, going to stand by while Castro and Khrushchev slowly take over that which God gave us and for which our forefathers gave blood, sweat and tears? I think it is time that the people of this land woke up to reality and did something about the Cuban situation. As long as this sinister cauldron boils, the soup is going to thicken and be harder to dip out in the long run.

Only two months ago a man died for his country. He died gallantly—but in vain??? I think we should think over the ideals this country was founded upon and do that which our predecessors did. Let us not be frowned upon by those who gave us what we have.

Apostles

The twelve apostles of Jesus Christ were Andrew, Bartholomew (or Nathanael), James, James the son of Zebedee, John, Judas Iscariot, Matthew, Peter, Philip, Simon, Thaddeus and Thomas.

Charles Sherwood Stratton was the real name of Tom Thumb.

The circumstances of William H. Vanderbilt's oft-quoted statement, "The public be damned!" were as follows: Vanderbilt was being pressed for a statement about reduction of train schedules on his railroad by a reporter who talked incessantly about the public interest. Supposedly, Vanderbilt's ire was directed at the reporter, rather than at the public.

The Doctor Says

Inflamed Thyroid Can Indicate Hasimoto Disease

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Hasimoto's disease is a chronic inflammation of the thyroid. Although inflammation may cause some changes in thyroid function, this is quite different from the myxedema and the goiters which I have already described.

It may be due to an infection. But often the cause is unknown. It is most common in middle-aged women and is characterized by a painful swelling of the thyroid. Your doctor may have to take a small piece of the gland (needle biopsy) for microscopic examination in order to make the diagnosis.

In the more acute form, cortisone may be given. X-ray treatments also help most victims. In the chronic form, thyroid substance or one of its derivatives is often given if the thyroid function is found to be decreased. Complete cure is the rule. There is no relationship between this disease and cancer of the thyroid which is relatively rare.

Q—You recently said that cancer was not hereditary, but my father, my uncle and three of my brothers all died of cancer. How could this happen if cancer is not hereditary?

A—There is a growing belief that most cancers are caused by as yet unidentified viruses. While cancer does not appear to be contagious in the ordinary sense, there is no reason why several members of a family could not become infected with one or more varieties of these viruses.

Tuberculosis, another infectious disease, also may afflict several members of a single family. It was also once considered to be inherited but this is no longer true.

Q—In a breech delivery, are the baby's feet or its buttocks born first? Why is this more dangerous than a head first delivery? Could a doctor turn the baby and make him come head first?

A—The buttocks are usually born first, although sometimes it is a foot or a knee. This type of birth has dangers for both the mother and the child. When the head comes first, there is a gradual dilation of the birth canal to allow the passage of the head, which is the largest part. There is no stimulation of the baby's respiration until the head is born.

The rest of the baby follows promptly. When the breech comes first the delivery of the head is difficult because the birth canal has not fully dilated. If the head is not delivered quickly the baby, whose breathing has been stimulated, may suffocate. On the other hand, too rapid a delivery of the after-coming head may injure the mother. For these reasons a doctor will make every effort to turn the baby so that it will be born head first.

Q—I take Amytal every day for nervousness. My doctor says it is habit-forming. Does it also have any bad side effects?

A—Amobarbital (Amytal), like all barbiturates, is habit-forming. Side effects may include extreme excitement, dizziness, headache, nausea and a skin rash.

The Mature Parent

Child Is Not Mom's Rival

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Though my husband is kind enough to me and our two boys, all his real attention is for our girl, 7. The minute he gets in it's "Where's my beautiful?" Every evening she has to sit on his lap to look at television. He winks at her at the table; constantly hugs and kisses her. After we have gone to bed, he will get up to go and see how she is and I can hear him kissing her again. God help me, I am jealous of my child.

ANSWER: Do you think that your husband feels any genuine love for her?

If so, we'd better use it to warn him that such extravagant attention to a daughter at the cost of attention to his wife endangers the daughter's life as a woman.

We'd better tell him that he is defining wifehood for his little girl as a neglected and undesirable state.

Every time he bypasses your appeal to over-elaborate on his little girl's, her respect for the sexual love of man and wife is diminished. Daughterhood is made into the supremely desirable form of relationship to man. Every time he disparages his wife's femininity to flatter his daughter's, he is saying to her, "To be a man's daughter is a most delightful state but to be his wife is to be taken for granted, unappreciated, ignored." That is a cruel lie.

If your husband can rally any genuine affection for this credulous and trusting little girl of his, he will stop telling that lie to her. By transferring his attention to you, he will try to repair the damage he has done and establish a man's relationship to his wife as the most desirable one little girls can hope for.

If he cannot do this, he should consult a psychiatrist. Otherwise, he is going to be punished.

Whether he thought it was the same meeting and the women had just gone to one table and the men to the other, she does not know. Or whether their meeting looked more inviting. But anyway, there he sat.

But not for long. The men got a big kick out of it. But they just weren't going to let him get by with that. One of them came right over and got him. And another one got him a chair, so he wouldn't have any excuse.

It was a good try, though. And it was probably the first time he had been able to get out of town without his wife for a long time. Some men just can't stand to see another guy have fun. And anyway, it was an easy mistake. Everybody at some time or other has got to the wrong meeting. There was no possible way for him to tell which meeting he was to attend. Except, of course by the fact that one was a men's meeting and the other was a women's meeting. Anybody might have got mixed up — that is, if they wanted to. And the girls rather thought maybe he wanted to. — H. L.

mother of fact

The circumstances of William H. Vanderbilt's oft-quoted statement, "The public be damned!" were as follows: Vanderbilt was being pressed for a statement about reduction of train schedules on his railroad by a reporter who talked incessantly about the public interest. Supposedly, Vanderbilt's ire was directed at the reporter, rather than at the public.

Spring Fork Fishing Year
Opens To Public March 1

The fishing season will open at Spring Fork Lake Sunday with prospects for a much brighter season than was experienced last year.

The city-owned recreation area will open with some changes made during the past year. First, electric motors may be used. Secondly, there is no membership fee. Water Department customers of the Sedalia Water Department only may fish for the regular $1 fee, and boat rental will be the same as usual, $1 per half-day.

Melvin Jones, water board member in charge of operation of the recreation area, said last year there were two batches of channel catfish added to the lake, and this week there are 3,000 more channels due in, ranging in weight from one-half to two pounds. This will make a total of 7,111 channel catfish stocked in the lake.

Last year, fishermen caught few of these channels, so they are expected to have grown to well over "keeper" size. Last year fishermen were plagued by catching large numbers of small bass, and these bass are expected to be of "keeper" size this season. Numerous small crappie were caught last year, and the crappie catch is expected to be greater this year.

Jones said the lake is down some 11 inches from full basin, however, the lake level has been raised 11 inches in the past few weeks by pumping water from well No. 13 into the lake. This well is connected to the flow line from the lake to Sedalia, and when the reservoir at the pumping station on Flat Creek fill up, the pump at the well is left on, forcing the water to back up and run out of the intake tower at the lake. Little surface water has entered the lake for two years.

Jones added that some picnic tables are to be built this spring. Fire rings for cookouts were available last year.

Fourth Night
Of Play At Tipton Gym

The Class M Regional Tournament went into the fourth night of play Thursday at Tipton. Russellville downed Ashland, 64-51, and California defeated Osage, 53-49.

The first quarter playing in the Russellville-Ashland contest saw the quarter end with a tie, both scoring 11 points. Russellville broke this lead in the second sweeping ahead of Ashland by 11 points making the half time score 34-23. The third stanza saw Russellville once again outscore Ashland, but by only four points, leaving for the fourth and final period with the score 49-34. Ashland rallied, but it was too late. They outscored Russellville 17-15 in quarter play but lost the battle.

Russellville's big gun was Dale Bates followed by Larry Theroff hitting 22. Melvin Lewis scored 14 points for Ashland.

California edged Osage in close competition. The first period saw California outscore Osage 19-12. During the second stanza Osage turned the tables and outscored them by 10-5. As the third neared its end California once again overtook Osage 16-13. A late rally by Osage in the fourth was closely followed and duplicated by California but Osage came out ahead by one point, ending the game with fourth quarter scoring 14-13.

Mike Miller led California to victory by scoring 23 points and Bobby Dellbringer dropped 17 points through the loop for Osage.

The semi-finals begin Friday evening at 7 with Tipton playing Slater and Russellville vs. California at 8:30.

At Convention Hall

Heavyweights And Gals
Head Mat Program Here

Two bruising heavyweight teams will be in action here Tuesday night on a mat program that also will feature two aggressive gal grapplers.

Lined up for the main event is a pairing that will send giant Art Thomas, the 6-5, 265-pound Negro heavyweight, and veteran Lee Henning against another power duo composed of the Stomper and Joe Gump.

Booked for women's battling are sassy Kathy Starr, a chunky, female fighter, and Betty Nickoli, a fast-rising newcomer who could gain ground with a decisive victory over her veteran opponent.

Separate clashes match the Stomper and Thomas, Gump and Henning.

The Stomper, a muscular 270-pounder, has been the scourge of the Midlands' wrestling rings these last several months, but Henning has discovered a chink in the big fellow's armor and hopes to exploit it.

Henning, a wrestler who's been active in the pro nearly 30 seasons, found that the Stomper is averse to the New Yorker's "claw" hold and has used it repeatedly. Although only recently returned to this section, Henning already claims a decision over the Stomper and figures to get himself in Central States title contention.

Henning will have considerable help in his Convention Hall effort. Thomas is big, fast and rugged and likes to mix it up in brawling fashion. With Gump to shore up the Stomper's defensive and add a few good licks of his own, the stage is set for some free-wheeling action.

With three games left, the Bengals are 11-10 for the year as Colorado moves into Brewer field house. Coach Sox Walseth's Buifs, 7-3, in league play, must get by M.U. here, and Kansas at Lawrence on Monday to keep snapping at the heels of K-State (8-2).

Colorado handled Missouri, 90-77, at Boulder—with big Jim Davis the chief tormentor. The scowling 6-8 buff pivot scored 34 points and raked in 21 rebounds—while cold-shooting Mizou fell behind early and never threatened.

The Tigers finish up at home with Colorado and Iowa State (Tuesday)—then close out with Kansas State at Manhattan Saturday. Now 5-6, they need two conference wins to halve their Big Eight record.

Down the stretch, Tiger Ray Bob Carey can join the league's elite 1,000-point lodge by averaging 14 points each time out. Conceivably, the slick 6-7 senior could become the fifth Bengal player in M.U. annals to reach that plateau Tuesday night if he can pad his current 18.9-point average a bit against the Buffaloes.

Carey now has 958 points. A proud delegation of hometown fans from Cameron, Mo., will honor the Tiger co-captain here Saturday night.

Missouri can pressure Colorado all the way, if Bob Price—No. 2 scorer at 18.5—keeps blistering the hoop. Last weekend, the Granite City, Ill., redhead hammered in 29 against O.U., and followed with 25 against Oklahoma State—earning a salute from John Cronley of the Daily Oklahoman for the "finest performance by any player in Gallagher Hall all season."

Gary Garner, M.U. guard, injured a knee against the Pokes, and probably will yield his first-string job to Charlie Rudd Saturday.

Probable Starters:
TIPOFF: 7:35 p.m., Saturday, Brewer field house.
COLORADO: Jack Lintz (6-8), Norm Saunders (6-6), Jim Davis (6-8), George Parsons (6-2), Bob Joyce (6-2).
MISSOURI: George Flannick (6-5), Ray Bob Carey (6-7), Don Early (6-5), Bob Price (6-2), Charlie Rudd (6-0).

Knob Noster
Tourney In Quarter Final

The Class M Regional Tournament went into quarter-finals Thursday night at Knob Noster. Raymore - Peculiar downed Pleasant Hill, 57-51. Windsor edged Higginsville, 52-41, and Warrensburg trounced St. Paul's Concordia 79-47.

First game competition saw the lead change hands alternately with Raymore-Peculiar outscoring Pleasant Hill in the first, 10-7, and third, 21-11. Pleasant Hill controlled the second with scoring amounting to 15-9, and the fourth with the score 18-17.

Raymore-Peculiar's high point for the game, Houchen hitting 27, was also the high for the evening. Pleasant Hill's big gun was Bunnell hitting 16.

During the second game, Windsor controlled the game the first two quarters. The first saw them outscore Higginsville 19-4 and in the second 14-9. The last two periods sported a Higginsville rally. During the third they outscored Windsor 7-5 and once again during the fourth by 21-14.

Varner sank 19 points for Windsor and VanMeter hit 17 for Higginsville.

The final game of the evening saw Warrensburg in control of the court all four quarters. St. Paul's Concordia was behind at the half 37-27 but allowed the gap to widen in the fourth to cost them the game.

Lacy dropped 21 points through the hoop for Windsor and Seivers led the battle for St. Paul's with 11 points.

Friday night's competition sees the opening of the semi-finals with Concordia Public vs. Raymore-Peculiar at 6:45 and Windsor vs. Warrensburg at 8:15 on the Knob Noster court.

Vikings Whip Jewell

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Valley Vikings closed their basketball season by whipping William Jewell, the MCAU champion, 92-78 Thursday night.

The victory earned Missouri Valley a tie with Culver-Stockton for second place at 10-4. William Jewell clinched its league title by winning its first 12 games, then dropped its last two for a 12-2 record.

Valley is 14-7 for the season, and Jewell is 14-12. Jewell enters the NAIA play-off Monday against Rockhurst.

John Finrock scored 27 points for Valley. Homer Drew 17 for Jewell. Valley has 20-point leads twice in the second half.

High Game: Dot Macaffree 194; 2nd, Dot Macaffree 181.

Trotters
Win Over
Opposition

The Harlem Globetrotters, as expected, won the basketball exhibition at Smith-Cotton High School Thursday night, defeating Golden Gaters 93 to 83. It was a game mostly of entertainment on the part of the Trotters, who displayed their various arts in handling the basketball.

A local "touch" was inserted into the game when Foster McGuire, a Smith-Cotton High School coach was "drafted" to officiate over the game. The referee which accompanies the teams on the tour was called back to his home because of illness in his family and McGuire was "elected." In spite of the antics pulled by the "Trotters" on the floor, McGuire survived.

The Globetrotters moved out front in the first quarter by six points 29-23, led at the half 51-41 had a 15-point edge at the end of the third quarter, 75-60, with the "Gaters" pulling within 10 points in the final quarter, 93-83.

The halftime entertainment was an excellent vaudeville show and was enjoyed by the some 1,200 spectators.

The game was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars with Jack Alpert, which will split the net proceeds with the Children's Therapy Center.

"FORE"

"Hats Off" this week to the good people out around Camp Branch Church for the completion of their new building, also to the councilman in Sedalia pushing this clean-up campaign to stop all the unnecessary and dangerous fire truck runs. Out here at ELK HILLS PUBLIC GOLF COURSE we don't get too well acquainted with city officials but we sure are interested in what they do. What we can offer you here is directly related to what they do down there. Keep cleaning Councilman. You are in the tractor seat, but don't stop with this one particular kind of trash. Cleaning up and plowing around has done a lot for this county and maybe you, like me, just aint too good a farmer and plowing with a plow—but you can clean up if you want—you have a vote on the Council and a pen that could plow pretty deep.

Speaking of firemen and danger makes me think. When I think of firemen I think of policemen, sheriffs, deputies, state troopers etc. I think that people who make the most money are usually people who get paid for what they know and not just what they do. Since I believe in paying people for what they know I would double every fireman, policeman, sheriff and deputy's salary in our county. State troopers too if I could. You'd say that's impossible! I'd remind you what Lindberg and Ford did was impossible. By all means pay lawyers for what they know and do, also stock brokers, bank executives, city managers etc. Then, pay firemen $350 a month for what they do and $350 for what they know. You would ask now, what do these civic minded servants of all know? It would take this entire page to tell you all they know, but here in this column I can tell you just one thing they know is this: "My next call could be my last!" Would you do what they do for their salary? If you would, could you? And if you would and you could, why don't you?

On the other side of the page we have school teachers. We do a good job of paying them for what they know—when are we going to start paying them an equal amount for what they do? Want to try doing without these people for a while? Or maybe little things we read like "Fireman Suffocates," "Police- man Fatally Wounded" or "Local School Teacher Accepts Position in Another City" doesn't mean anything to us? Perhaps this pending sewer system doesn't mean anything in particular to you but if it does, have you checked to see if it will be large enough 30 years from now, or is it just an improvement on your present one? Skentic? Perhaps Doubtful? Maybe Exaggerating? A little, but very, very little—RUSS.

NEXT WEEK: Meet Krazy Guggenheim and his "Schemer Trapper."

Goods and Services Spending Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans raised their spending for goods and services by an average of $94 per person in 1963 and this added up to $17.7 billion, the Commerce Department said Thursday.

Red China's Exodus Down To a Trickle

HONG KONG (AP)—The exodus of refugees from Red China is down to a trickle but the flow of money to friends and relatives on the China mainland is growing.

People in Communist China, eating slightly better than they did, are not so desperate to flee as they were a year ago. The improved food situation is caused partly by slightly better harvests and partly by Peking's purchases of food from abroad.

But the Chinese Communists now need foreign exchange to replace the hard currency they spend importing food. They are trying to get it by resorting to stratagems close to extortion.

Many Chinese residents here report an increase in letters from friends and relatives in China pleading for money. These often say members of families are sick and need medical attention. Others say they need the money to buy food. The letters are regarded by many recipients as blackmail.

"I know most of the cases are phony. But what can I do?" one factory worker said. "I can't afford to take a chance. Maybe my mother and sisters are really sick."

The Chinese Communists allot extra food rations to recipients of overseas remittances to draw more money from abroad.

The Hong Kong government recently announced thousands of food parcels sent from this British colony were returned by the Chinese Communists. No reason was given.

Many people here believe this is a device to encourage Hong Kong residents to send money instead of food to relatives and friends in Red China.

Newspaper surveys estimate Hong Kong residents in January remitted a total of $16 million, three times the amount sent in the same period last year.

Additional funds from Southeast Asia, the United States and other parts of the world are funneled into mainland China through this British colony.

U.S. Influence Thin

Pessimism Deepens In Asia As Result of Developments

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—A rash of developments in Southeast Asia has deepened Western pessimism about this area's chances of uniting against threats of Chinese expansion.

American influence, which once helped stitch together key sections of the region, has worn thin.

An open attempt by France to move in where the United States is edging—or being edged—out has complicated the picture.

Amid the confusion, Communists have registered fresh military gains in the Southeast Asian heartland.

Along the outer arc, where Communist aggression is not an immediate factor, the Malaysia crisis has ripped neighbors apart.

"Put your finger on Southeast Asia's map, and you're almost bound to touch a trouble spot," a Western diplomat remarks gloomily.

These developments point up the trend:

In neutralist Cambodia, Prince Norodom Sihanouk has threatened to cut Western ties and form military alliances with Communist China and North Viet Nam unless the West agrees to guarantee his country's neutrality.

In Laos, pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces, bolstered by Vietnamese, have stepped up attacks in the north and north central sectors in a fresh, bold attempt to widen Communist control in that little kingdom.

In South Viet Nam, the Communist Viet Cong has intensified terrorist activity while the country is still rebounding from its second coup d'etat in three months. American troops have become the target of bombs.

On the Southeast Asian rim, the fledgling Malaysia Federation faces the opposition of two of its biggest neighbors, Indonesia and the Philippines.

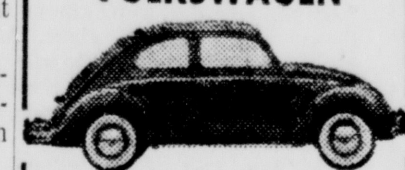

In Indonesia itself, internal troubles—fanned by a big, Chinese-leaning Communist party and aggravated by widespread starvation—have given rise to speculation about a Red takeover.

Thailand is trying to act as a mediator in the Malaysia crisis but has the Laos problem to worry about, too. It shares a long border with that troubled Quezon City replaced Manila as the official capital of the Republic of the Philippines in 1948.

New Church Leader For Africans

By JOHN MACLENNAN
Associated Press Writer

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The Rev. Seth Mokiti, the first African ever elected president of the Methodist Church in South Africa takes over his post later this year. He is 60, under five feet tall, and believes blacks and whites can live in amity in Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's racially segregated country.

The cleric who voted for him regard him as a powerful influence for good among his own people, a fervent evangelist and a highly capable administrator.

He speaks fluent English, Afrikaans and several African dialects.

With 1,364,000 members of all races, the Methodist Church in South Africa is second in size only to the Protestant Dutch Reformed Church, which has 1,696,000 members, mostly whites.

The Rev. Mr. Mokiti says his visits overseas as a delegate to international conferences have given him a broader appreciation of world problems. He visited Austria in 1939, Toronto in 1947 and the United States in 1961. He lectured and preached in all these countries.

Since 1932 he has been warden of the Bensonville Methodist Institution in South Africa's Cape Province, opened in 1879 to train teachers but now a high school.

Asked how he proposes to carry out his new duties in the face of restrictive legislation affecting Africans in this country, he says: "I have not considered these things at all. I will live my life in the normal way."

He was born in Basutoland, the neighboring British protectorate, in 1903. His family was so poor that he and his brother could not be sent to school every day. They went on alternate days.

His father later moved to South Africa—first as a teacher and later he entered the Methodist ministry.

The Rev. Mr. Mokiti followed in his father's footsteps by training first as a teacher and then entering the Methodist ministry in 1931. He studied at Fort Hare College, in South Africa's Cape Province. He has been married for 35 years. His daughter is a qualified nurse and his son a teacher.

False Arrest Suit Settled Out of Court

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A suit asking damages on a claim of false arrest was settled out of court Wednesday.

Baladasro Palmentere, a 28-year-old night club operator had sued Don Hutson, former assistant Jackson County prosecutor, and detectives Robert Dowd and Thomas Madigan for arresting him April 24, 1961 when he was called to testify before a grand jury.

The amount of the settlement was not disclosed.

Federal District Judge Richard M. Duncan had earlier given a directed verdict of acquittal for 13 members of the grand jury who also were sued by Palmentere.

The Junior High and Senior High Youth Fellowships meet Sunday at noon for a sacrificial meal of crackers and an apple. The money usually spent on food will be given for the work of Church World Service. The Senior Highs will have a film-strip depicting what is done by Church World Service, while Dee Ellison and Debra Lyles will present the topic, "Stories in Glass," to the Junior Highs. Each group will also have recreation, business and worship.

At 2 p.m. Sunday, representatives of both youth groups will attend the gathering of church youth at Temple Beth El.

Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., the monthly session of the church council will be held at church. At the same hour the Elizabeth Circle meets at the home of Mrs. Elmer Maune, 917 West Fourth.

The fourth midweek Lenten service will be conducted at Immanuel Church, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. The pastor's theme is, "Were You There When He Was Accused?" After the service the Immanuel Women's Choir will practice.

Thursday, 11 a.m., the mission study group begins a consideration of the national mission theme on "Urbanization." Mrs. Ernest Liebel will present the study on "Peoples and Persons." The Women's Guild meets for a noon luncheon, followed by the program, "The Old and New in India and Ceylon," led by Mrs. Michael Wolfel, business, and worship.

Thursday evening, 6:45 o'clock, there will be a combined meeting of the board of Christian education and the Church School officers and superintendents.

East Broadway Christian Plans For the Week

The sermon topic for Sunday morning worship at the East Broadway Christian Church has been chosen by Cleo Gray as, "The Power of Consecrated Lives." Miss Catherine Garman at the organ will play as the prelude, "Morning Prelude"; as the offertory, "Peace, the Gift of God's Love"; and as postlude, "In A Garden."

The youth of the church will have their Bible study period at 6:30. The evening sermon will be at 7:30 and the topic is "Closed Doors."

Prof. Speaks Language Of His Students

By JEAN JOHANNESSEN
of the St. Petersburg Times
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—J. Stanley Chestnut, associate professor of religion at Florida Presbyterian College, is many men.

To his students he is a counsellor and teacher. He talks of Jehu, "the Old Testament character-driving hot rod." Or the "non-conformist Amos," the prophet who defied the political powers of his day. Sometimes his Biblical heroes "hop on white chargers and leave in a cloud of dust."

Students find themselves listening—not only because their professor talks their language, but because they sense in him a rare and wonderful dedication; it's like seeing a light go on, they say.

To his colleagues, Chestnut is a recognized scholar. He has studied Latin, Spanish, Greek, German, French, Hebrew and Aramaic. He is now taking Russian. He holds a doctor of philosophy degree from Yale. His research projects and articles have appeared in newspapers and professional magazines throughout the country. His studies have taken him to Jordan, Israel, Japan, Thailand, Pakistan, India and Egypt.

To his three sons, aged 12 to 6½, and 2-year-old daughter, he is a spare halfback in a tough football game, basketball coach or healer of minor cuts and bruises.

To his wife, Vlasta, he is an unpredictable source of wonder. He'll ask her to go bowling one evening and calmly announce that he is off again to dig up ancient ruins in the Holy Land the next.

Finally, Dr. J. Stanley Chestnut is an ordained minister in the United Presbyterian Church, USA. He has some exceptional ideas about religion.

"The church today is missing the boat in not coming up with a new religious vocabulary," he says. "Most of the statements of belief—at least in the Presbyterian Church—are still in the language of the 17th century."

Dr. Chestnut would substitute the word "Being" for God. He believes that the word "God" conveys a stereotyped image of a loving father. The father analogy does not always hold true, particularly when one's earthly father is far from loving, he says.

The professor also would change the pattern of Sunday morning worship. "People today are able to go through the services only half awake without being challenged or made to feel that they are in the presence of God."

As a start, he would omit—at least temporarily—such items as the Apostle's Creed, the Lord's Prayer and certain other prayers and responses. Dr. Chestnut favors doing away with traditional sermons, too.

Modern music has a place in church, too, Chestnut claims. Jazz already has been used in services in England and the United States.

Finally, Chestnut thinks the time of church services may have to be changed. More families are going away for week-end trips. The church may be forced to meet on Thursday evenings for example, if it hopes to reach its members

'New' Debbie Reynolds With a Zippy Career

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—There's a new Debbie Reynolds in town. She's the ex-bobby sox idol who feels she has achieved a new milestone in her career as a grownup comedienne.

"I could only wish for life to stay as it is—to be as happy all ways as I am today," she said.

There are several reasons for her exhilaration. First, her career, which had dipped somewhat, is again strongly on the upgrade.

She recently completed an arduous, seven-month stint before the cameras.

During the filming, she was bruised from hip to cheek, fell off a bar, nearly drowned in a river.

"There wasn't an easy scene that they are in the presence of God."

As a start, he would omit—at least temporarily—such items as the Apostle's Creed, the Lord's Prayer and certain other prayers and responses. Dr. Chestnut favors doing away with traditional sermons, too.

Would Decrease Tilt Of the Leaning Tower

PISA, Italy (AP)—The city of Pisa has asked the Italian government to spend more than a million dollars to tilt the Leaning Tower back just a little and keep it from falling down.

The 14,000-ton tower would be jacked up six feet and then eased back down on a new cement base.

No one wants to straighten the tower.

But the 184-foot tower already slants almost 11 feet from true perpendicular, and the tilt has increased by a quarter of an inch in the last 45 years. Experts say that if this keeps on, the tower may not stand another 100 years.

with two children and a wounded heart in 1959 to marry Elizabeth Taylor. Debbie now says she is happy in her marriage to her second husband, multimillionaire Harry Karl.

Miss Reynolds, who began her career as the tomboyish "Miss Burbank of 1948," has emerged in recent years as one of Hollywood's more glamorous women. She still feels deeply grateful to the movie industry for this transformation.

"When I started, I didn't even know how to dress. I wore dungarees and a shirt. I had no money, no taste and no training," she said frankly.

Her philosophy: "Life is both faith and love. Without faith, love is only one dimensional and incomplete. Faith helps you to overlook other people's shortcomings, and love them as they are."

"If you ask too much of any relationship, you can't help but be disappointed. But if you ask nothing, you can't be hurt or disappointed."

Two More Drag Racers Draw Fines

Improvised Track On Georgetown Road Under Watch

Two more drag racers were brought before Judge Frank Armstrong in Magistrate Court Thursday morning and the judge fined them $100 plus court costs each, placing them on probation with a 30-day suspended jail sentence hanging over their heads should they be caught dragging again.

Fined were James B. Wheatley, 19, Route 4, and William Russell Meredith, 20, also of Route 4. Both were charged with careless and imprudent driving by drag racing and were arrested about 11:05 p.m. Wednesday night on Georgetown Road (Route H) north of Sedalia by Deputy Sheriff Jack Couts.

Deputy Couts said he observed the start of the drag race on the road at a point where dragsters have improvised their own quarter-mile racing strip. Couts set out in pursuit and halted Wheatley's car in a short distance, but pursued Meredith nearly four miles at speeds in excess of 100 m.p.h. before he was able to halt him.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Deputy Couts took a Democrat-Capitol reporter to the scene of the improvised drag strip Thursday morning and in the sheriff's patrol car retraced the pursuit.

With a can of spray paint dragsters painted a starting line south of the Buena Vista Rest Home and one-quarter of a mile north another line has been painted marked "This Is The Finish."

Sheriff Fairfax said his department had received numerous complaints of racing from

Khanh Accuses French Of Trying To Bribe Assassin

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's premier strong man told associates Thursday that French officials paid a terrorist about $1,300 to kill him on one of his trips to the countryside.

Informed sources said Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who seized power Jan. 30, reported he learned of the plot in time to call off the trip.

In a prompt denial, a spokesman for the French Embassy said, "The premier must have been saying this in jest."

Then in an apparent jest of his own, the spokesman mentioned the size of the purported payment and remarked: "We could have it done cheaper."

Ninth Juror Chosen For Ruby Trial

DALLAS (AP) — An electronics engineer was selected Thursday as the ninth member of the jury to try Jack Ruby for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The trial began Feb. 17 and seven men and two women now have been accepted from among more than 100 candidates questioned. Twelve jurors are needed.

The ninth juror is James E. Cunningham, 34. He was educated at the University of Texas and he obviously gained favor with the defense when he said he had taken an introductory course in psychology there. Psychological testimony is expected to form the basis of an insanity defense for the 52-year-old Ruby.

Earlier, the defense had placed renewed stress on Oswald's background, calling him a Communist assassin of the President.

Ruby faces a possible death penalty if convicted of murder with malice.

TODAY'S WEATHER

Decreasing cloudiness in afternoon Friday, warmer, highs in the 40s; becoming generally fair Friday night and Saturday; low Friday night 25-32.

The temperature Thursday was 22 at 7 a.m., and 45 at noon. Low Wednesday night was 17.

The temperature one year ago Thursday, high 59, low 22; two years ago, high 23, low 17; three years ago, high 47, low 35.

Lake of Ozark stage: 51.6 feet; 8.4 below full reservoir; no change.

Relations between France and this former French possession have gone down hill since French President Charles de Gaulle called for neutralization of Southeast Asia, including South Viet Nam where the United States spends millions to back the war against Communist guerrillas.

A U.S. intelligence official said he had no evidence to support the assassination charge but added: "It seems logical to assume that some French might be behind such a thing because it would further French policies, which are directed to neutralization of South Viet Nam, which Khanh opposes."

Such a plot might be the work of "some renegade French with or without official French sanction. We believe that some of the French planters here are weary of war, and are willing to help the Viet Cong in order to get the war over with and return to business as usual," he said.

In seizing power from the old military junta in a bloodless coup, Khanh, 36, charged some top generals had acted as French agents in a plot to neutralize South Viet Nam.

Rumors of another coup have been circulating for two weeks but outwardly at least Khanh is in firm control.

French informants in Paris said Khanh's regime asked France to extradite Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, sister-in-law of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. She has been living in France since shortly after a military junta overthrew Diem on Nov. 1 and killed him and Mrs. Nhu's husband. It was this junta that then was thrown out by Khanh.

Demonstrations Are Suspended

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) — A curfew went into effect Thursday night as white leaders tried to avert another racial demonstration by Negro students.

John Wilson, president of the Student Appeal For Equality at Maryland State College, had said earlier Thursday the demonstrations were suspended until Saturday. But late in the day he said they could happen anytime.

Riotous outbursts Wednesday resulted in the arrest of 27 students and medical treatment of 59 as they clashed with 130 state police who quelled the Negroes with police dogs and fire hoses.

"We got more kids hurt than well," said Wilson. He said the students would be taught passive resistance and how to conduct themselves during demonstrations.

The town commission adopted a curfew which prohibits persons under 21 from being on the streets between 9:15 p.m. and 6 a.m. Most of the demonstrations for the past week against two restaurants whose owners refuse to serve Negroes have happened during daylight, however.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes, who sent National Guard troops to Cambridge, about 45 miles northwest of Princess Anne, last summer, was ready to send troops here Wednesday had it been necessary.

But state police, some wearing helmets and wielding night sticks, repelled two surges of demonstrators, using night sticks. When they sat in three large circles on U.S. 13, which runs through this community of 1,300, police slowly drove a truck through and finally brought in the dogs.

One trooper, Colin MacIndoe, 29, of Easton, was burned on his feet and legs from what police said was acid. He was treated at a Salisbury hospital and released.

Police Board To Work On Picking Chief

The Police Personnel Board has begun steps for the selection of a chief of police under the department's new merit system form of administration.

Floyd Priddy, in an announcement issued by the board Wednesday evening, said the PPB is now accepting applications for the chief's position and interested applicants may secure an application blank from City Clerk Ralph Dedrick at City Hall.

Applications are to be mailed to the chairman of the Police Personnel Board, in care of the city clerk at City Hall.

A written examination for applicants is scheduled for March 17. Applicants may take the examination at either 10 a.m. or 2 p.m. that date.

Personal interview and oral examinations of the applicants by the board will be at City Hall starting at 7 p.m. on March 24, the board said.

Final selection for the office of Chief of Police under the merit system ordinance will be by the City Council. According to the ordinance, the board pointed out, the selection will be made at the first regular meeting of the new council in April.

Ralph Hamlin is currently serving as chief of police.

Wheat Futures Prices Break Sharply Thurs. On Board Of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices of old crop wheat futures broke sharp again Thursday on the Board of Trade without showing any sign of mustering a rallying volume of support. The March delivery was down more than four cents at the close.

Other grains and soybeans were mostly easier in rather light and mixed trading which reflected a virtual absence of demand more than strong pressure.

Brokers said there seemed to be some expectation that wheat tenders would be fairly liberal but that a more important consideration was a belief the sales to Russia and other Communist nations probably would not now materialize as had been expected.

At the close, what was 4½ cents a bushel lower to ¼ higher, March $2.11-10¼; soybeans 1 cent lower to ¼ higher, March $2.63½-¼; corn ¾ lower to ¾ higher, March $1.18¼-65¢; rye unchanged to ¾ lower, March $1.35½-¾.

Bank Is Held Up

LONDON (AP) — Six bandits with stockings pulled over their heads snatched $145,600 from a bank in suburban Bernadsey on Thursday.

The raiders one with a pistol, the others waving clubs, sprang forward when a cashier opened the vault 10 minutes before the bank was to open. They escaped in a small truck.

White School Rallies In Aid Of Negro

DUNDEE, Mich. (AP) — In fifth-grade scrawl, signed "Your friend," Cheryl Jennings wrote Prof. Samuel McDonald of Dundee community schools

"I do hope you get better quick because we all want you to come back because we love you so much as our music teacher. So you do what the doctor says because we want you to get back with us. . . ."

The day before, tears trickled from the corners of his eyes as Samuel McDonald asked a reporter to:

"Tell the people of Dundee I appreciate the fine Christian spirit they have shown me and I will come back if they want me."

Cheryl's note is only one of a steady stream of more than a thousand McDonald has received. And Supt. Harry Nelson has a 1964-65 teaching contract already approved for him.

Few towns, large or small, ever were more concerned than Dundee about the fate of one man. This man is black and every one of Dundee's 2,377 citizens is white, and none knew him before he came last September to teach elementary music and direct the junior and senior high choruses.

Last Jan. 31, McDonald was driving to school from nearby Ann Arbor, where he lived. Suddenly his light car hit an ice-glazed patch of expressway and smashed into an overpass abutment.

The impact all but crushed the life out of McDonald. Already hospitalized a month, doctors estimate it will be three to four more months before he's out and about again.

In a hospital bill that soared above $2,500 before he was transferred to Veterans' Hospital at Ann Arbor this week, the charge for blood alone was $325. And the $2,500 doesn't cover doctors and a round-the-clock nurses.

McDonald had only the $500 personal injury insurance that came with that on his automobile.

But now he has more. It is coming in pennies and nickels and dimes from the 1,750 pupils in Dundee's elementary and high schools, and in dollars from townspeople and teachers.

As of Wednesday, the amount had reached $680. More has been pledged and still more is expected.

Construction Is Begun On Canal

PALATKA, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson touched off a dynamite blast that opened construction of a cross-state barge canal Thursday and, defying cool temperatures and rain, began the first openly political trip of his administration.

A crowd of some 10,000 sloshed through mud to see the tall Texan who flew to Florida to raise dollars for Democrats and perhaps rough up Republicans.

"When this canal is completed," said Johnson at Palatka, "it will start new and permanent economic growth. It will accelerate business and industry to locate along its banks. It will open up new recreation areas."

The President, who shuttled to Palatka and back by helicopter from the naval air base at Jacksonville, where he landed in an Air Force jet from Washington, ignored the light rain, mud and 50-degree mercury reading.

Johnson said those who promoted the long-delayed canal project have made "the American apparatus of freedom go forward to new dimensions and to new boundaries."

The brief stop at Palatka was billed as nonpolitical. But Johnson said Florida citizens should be grateful to Democratic Gov. Farris Bryant and the state's predominantly Democratic congressional delegation "for the work they did in making this barge canal possible."

Thousands of persons arrived hours early at the Rodeheaver Home for Boys on the banks of the St. John's River where the groundbreaking ceremony was held. Scores of policemen were in the area and a posse of mounted game wardens constantly patrolled a nearby wooded area overlooking the speaker's platform. Several school bands were present.

In what may be a preview of campaign tactics, Johnson brought along the family—Mrs. Johnson and daughters Lynda and Lucy. The First Lady is quite a campaigner, too.

The central purpose of the Florida expedition was speechmaking at a Democratic fundraising dinner at Miami Beach and the courting of 14 electoral votes in a state that has gone Republican in the last three presidential elections.

While the chief executive mixed in a bit of ceremonial

Burton Pleads Guilty To Burglary Charge

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Randolph Keith Burton, 26, pleaded guilty Thursday to four charges of second degree burglary, crimes committed while he was a city policeman.

He was one of five officers arrested last year in an alleged police burglary ring. Circuit Judge Harry A. Hall deferred sentencing, pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Burton was the state's chief witness earlier this week against Robert Cox, a former police sergeant, who was acquitted of a charge of second degree burglary and stealing.

Adco Buys Swift Plant, Vacant Lot

The sale of the Swift & Co. building at 500 West Main to Adco, Inc., was announced Thursday by Adco President John W. VanDyne. In addition, Van Dyne said, Adco has purchased the 150-142-foot lot just across Main from the old Swift building.

The sale was for cash, Van Dyne said, but he did not reveal the amount.

Van Dyne said the addition of the Swift building will allow Adco to expand and make room for new business brought in by a recent expansion in the sales and jobber systems.

The additional building will allow Adco to house all of the office and manufacturing facilities in the present building occupied by Adco, and to use the Swift plant for shipping and warehousing operations. The Swift building contains 4,500 feet of floor space.

Now, all of the operations take place in the Adco plant.

The lot across the street from the Swift building will be used

Consent Required for Minors

Polio Vaccine Program Geared

PLANS ARE NEARLY complete for the first of three mass oral polio immunization clinics to be staged at five Sedalia schools Sunday under the sponsorship of the Sedalia Jaycees and the Bothwell Hospital medical staff.

Clinics will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Heber U. Hunt, Horace Mann, Whittier, Washington and C. C. Hubbard schools. The oral Sabin vaccine, two drops of a pink liquid, will be administered on a cube of sugar.

Jerry Kling and Barry Williams, two of the programs directors, emphasized the importance of minor children having consent forms completed when they come to receive the vaccine. These forms contain the child's name, age and address and are to be signed by the parent or guardian. Forms were distributed through Sedalia and county schools, but any persons who did not receive a form for their children can clip and complete the consent form published in this newspaper on page 6.

VACCINE HAS ARRIVED—Sabin oral polio vaccine to be used in the first mass immunization clinic Sunday arrived in Sedalia Wednesday afternoon and has been placed in a deep freeze. Unloading the vaccine here are Richard Ruffs, (left), 1314 South Park, an employee of the van lines, and Dennis Onweiler, representative of the Wyeth Drug Company, suppliers of the vaccine. at the clinics will speed their travel through the vaccine lines.

Persons coming to the clinics for vaccine will be greeted at the doors by workers who will check minor children for consent forms. If the forms are ready, they will be ushered directly into the feeding lines and if not they will be instructed to registration tables where clerical volunteers will provide the forms.

Pharmacists and representatives of the Wyeth Drug Company, source of the vaccine, will prepare the vaccine and sugar cubes for consumption. A physician or registered nurse will be at each feeding line, officials pointed out, to administer the vaccine to infants or other persons unable to swallow a sugar cube. From the feeding lines persons will be directed to a desk where they will receive immunization cards noting the date and the fact that they have received Type 1 of the Sabin oral vaccine. Donations of 25 cents per dose are being asked, but no persons are to be turned down, Jaycees announced.

Williams and Kling pointed out that clinic feeding lines are designed to operate with a great degree of flexibility and speed so that coming to receive vaccine will take only a few minutes' time. Clinics can be expanded to as many as four feeding lines during rush hours—capable of handling several thousand doses per hour.

"Two points concerning the vaccine need to be emphasized," Williams said. "First, the vaccine should be given to all age groups over six months. The reason simply is that older persons can carry the polio virus and also that polio is no respecter of ages."

"Secondly, regardless of (Please turn to page 4, col. 3)

Truth Stirring Enough

George Washington's birthday anniversary prompts a thought:

Why do we make up fables to illustrate the greatness of our country's statesmen when their real lives are so much more impressive?

Why do we have to make so much out of the legend that Washington told his father he had, indeed, cut down the cherry tree?

It is fine, of course, that Washington was truthful. But it is a pity we must make up fables to illustrate his honesty. Washington should be remembered for other, greater deeds; for his real accomplishments.

Born in Westmoreland County, Va., Washington did not attend school until after he was 11 years old. Yet when he was only 16 he started a career as a surveyor.

It was when he was a surveyor that Gov. Dinwiddie of Virginia wished to send a message to the French along the Ohio River valley and chose Washington to lead a small group of men on the 1,000-mile journey.

Washington had adventures on that journey that were worthy of the Daniel Boone legend.

When the call went out for soldiers during the French and Indian War, Washington met the challenge and served bravely.

He was chosen a delegate to the First and Second Continental Congresses. It was at the second in 1775 that he was chosen to lead an American army.

The army consisted of raw, untrained citizens. These men had come from their farms at the news of trouble. They were without uniforms and camp equipment. Their rifles were their own.

It was Washington's task to shape them into a fighting team. For seven years he fought not only the British, but apathy, defection and a warring Congress from 13 independent, sovereign, jealous states.

After the war, Washington was asked to preside over the convention which framed the Constitution. It was this same Constitution which provided for a president, and Washington was asked to be the first president of the United States.

Which of these deeds, should he be remembered for?

He was not a military genius. No one claims he was. There is some argument as to whether he was a great president. He was not even a polished surveyor.

What, then, should he be remembered for?

George Washington should be remembered as a man who so loved his country that he was willing to serve it in any way he could, a man who spent his life in the public service.

Truly it can be said of him that he pledged his life, fortune and his honor to the ideals of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and his country.

Card Currency

America's first paper currency consisted of "IOU" notes written on backs of playing cards. Jacques de Muelles, French governor in Quebec, found himself without sufficient funds to pay his troops in 1685, so he resorted to cutting playing cards into quarters and assigning certain values to each piece. This strange "card currency" was in use until the fall of Quebec in 1759, nearly three-quarters of a century.

The Gift of a Knife

The Story of a Pocketknife

When Washington Nearly Resigned

By ROBERT COCHNAR

George Washington almost quit his command during the brutal winter of 1777-78 at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

If he had, the outcome of the American Revolution and the revered position Washington holds in the history of his country might have been considerably different. And, according to at least one report of that long winter, a pocketknife caused the Commander-in-Chief to change his mind.

After bitter defeats by the British at Brandywine and Germantown and unable to retreat to the British-held Philadelphia, the Continental armies had no alternative but to create a makeshift camp on the frozen hills of Valley Forge.

The bedraggled and dispirited soldiers had little food, almost no clothing and barely existed in rough log huts which provided slight shelter against the harsh wind. Thousands starved. Bare feet made bloody prints in the snow.

Large supplies of shoes, uniforms and food were stored not far away, but the inaction of the Continental Congress kept them from the armies. The Congress, in fact, had been driven out of Philadelphia by the British and covered in York, Pa., about 100 miles away from Valley Forge.

Washington endured treason, faithlessness, abuse, jealousy and personal treachery. He had little support and could barely hold his tattered troops together. Tory ministers shouted from the pulpits, urged his assassination. John Adams had resigned from the Army and was home in Braintree, Mass. Jefferson, never a soldier, rested comfortably at Monticello.

The general's great store of patience was nearly empty.

As he considered his almost hopeless position, he never thought of the pocketknife his mother had given him as a boy. It was a kind of consolation gift for obeying her command to refrain from accepting a commission as a midshipman in the British Navy.

In presenting the gift, Mary Washington told her son, "Always obey your superiors."

Symbolizing as it did a crisis that might have ruined him, Washington always carried the knife with him. The winter at Valley Forge was no exception. One day, during a particularly dismal period of the encampment, he came to a reluctant decision. The general summoned his staff and astonished it by reading a letter of resignation.

His aides begged him to reconsider, but Washington refused until one associate, Col. Henry Knox, asked him if he had forgotten about the knife. The dejected leader was puzzled until Knox asked:

"Did you not receive that knife with the admonition always to obey your superiors? Have you not in the present instance been ordered by the Congress to command this army? And isn't it true that Congress has not yet ordered you to relinquish this command?"

Washington hesitated. The reminder of the turning point of his boyhood quickly grew into the realization that he could not allow his temporary feelings to cause him to make a tragic decision at a time when the fate of his young nation so much depended on him.

General Washington smiled thinly. And tore his resignation to bits.

Senate 'Love Affair' to Undergo Test

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—"Mike, we love you."

That from the Republican leader of the Senate, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, to Mike Mansfield of Montana, leader of the Senate Democrats, a few years ago on a Mansfield birthday. He's 60 now.

The love affair between Mansfield and the other 99 senators will undergo a fierce test in the next few months as the Senate's Southern Democrats try to kill the civil rights bill with a filibuster.

The Senate may start on this bill, already passed by the House, next week. It's the toughest bill of its kind the Senate ever confronted.

Thursday night Mansfield was asked how long he thought the Southern filibuster might continue before an attempt was made to stop it. He said: "Months."

To cut off the Southerners would require a vote by two-thirds of all the senators present on the floor when the vote was called for. If all 100 were there, it would mean 67 senators, no easy number to come by.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and other liberal Democrats will do the actual leading of the fight for the bill. But Mansfield, as Senate leader, said he will have to be on the floor almost all the time.

The captain of the Southerners, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, a veteran of other civil rights fights going away back into the 1940s, said his group is prepared "to be there 24 hours a day."

He said "we don't mind around the clock sessions." Some advocates of civil rights legislation have long felt that wearing the Southerners down in around-the-clock sessions is the only way to smash a filibuster.

But Mansfield plans to keep the Senate in session only from 10 in the morning until 10 at night. He said Thursday night around-the-clock sessions are out unless some extraordinary situation develops, and he doesn't foresee that.

Asked if this was because he feared some of the older Senate members might collapse under the strain, he said this was only one consideration and then emphasized this:

"The only purpose of 24-hour sessions would be attrition on the Southerners. But attrition works both ways, and perhaps more on the other side than on the filibusterers."

"I am not going to turn the Senate into a circus."

This concern about not letting the Senate get a carnival look is an old theme with Mansfield. Last year, in defending his record as Senate leader from some extremely harsh criticism, he had said:

"I am neither a circus ringmaster, the master of ceremonies of a Senate night club, a tamer of Senate lions, or a wheeler and dealer. I confess freely to a lack of glamour."

Once, reflecting on his life and hard times in the Capitol, he admitted: "Actually, the Senate leadership is a headache. You can't please everyone. Every senator is a prima donna in some way."

We the Women

Men--Here's Lowdown On Secret Attitude

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"A woman's hat, when worn indoors, serves no useful purpose." So ruled a California justice and his associates on the State District Court of Appeal.

The question arose because a woman lawyer, asked by a lower court to remove her hat in the courtroom, promptly moved for a mistrial.

If men think that a woman's hat worn indoors serves no useful purpose, they just don't know what goes under a woman's bonnet.

Some of today's hats are designed to cover up pin curls and even rollers—a woman who hasn't time to sit under a hair dryer can let her curls set while she shops, makes a quick trip (or, conceivably, defends a client in court).

But even an ordinary bonnet can be a cover-up for a hair-do that has gone limp and is no longer the crowning glory a woman's hair is expected to be.

What woman hasn't confided to a friend who asks, "Are you going to wear a hat to the luncheon?"—"I have to. My hair looks terrible!"

Career women in particular, hard as it is for them to get to a beauty salon often enough to keep today's hard-to-maintain coiffures in presentable condition, depend heavily on the hat to give them a chic appearance they would not have without it.

So a woman's hat often serves a more utilitarian purpose than a mere man would ever suspect. After all, when a man admires a woman's hat she just smiles prettily, and says "thank you."

She would never confess the reason she is wearing a flower-bedecked bonnet is because her hair is a mess, or that underneath that flattering turban is a head covered with pin curls.

Yourself Is the Best Gift

DEAR POLLY—Gifts are always a problem when one is on a limited income, so I have worked out a system which my family and friends seem to like.

I send a card, appropriate for the occasion, and on it is an offer of some personal service for the receiver. It may be an offer to baby sit for small children whose mother will welcome a chance to dine out with her husband. We decide later on the day and time. Or, I give an hour of reading to a sick friend. I live close to town, so I offer to do shopping for a friend who lives in the country. I give another friend who has a large family one afternoon of my time, doing her mending and putting buttons on the children's clothes while she irons. During this time we enjoy a visit together.—MRS. J. S.

GIRLS—Giving something of ourselves is a gift money cannot buy.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When we bought a new box spring and mattress for our son's bed, we put the old wire type springs and the mattress on the basement floor for the children to play on. This has certainly saved the beds. They are no longer jumped on as the children have a bouncing pad which provides hours of fun. My nerves are saved, too, as the youngsters can now jump on something and come to no harm.—H. E. M.

DEAR POLLY—Keep a list of measurements of each member of the family in your sewing basket. Much time is saved as you do not have to wait for them to be at home when lengthening dresses, fixing waistbands and so on.—MRS. M. S. D.

DEAR POLLY—There was simply no space in one of our rooms for a much-needed desk. We made a substitute out of a 36x24-inch piece of 1/2-inch plywood. We rounded off the edges of the plywood and attached three pieces of wood 12x3x1/2 to the large piece. The whole affair was then painted. This desk top is put to use by opening a bureau drawer and dropping three attached prongs into the drawer opening so the desk top does not slip off. When not in use, this desk is easily stored back of a piece of furniture or in a closet.—DENISE

DEAR POLLY—When I purchase a new pair of gloves, I always sew small snaps inside close to the hem, one half on each glove. When taking the gloves off at a party or public gathering, I snap them together. Even if I lose them it is not a total loss. The finder has two gloves instead of one. Also I snap them together before putting away in my dresser drawer so they are not separated and hard to find.—MRS. G. B.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Worry, Anger Aggravate Stomach Ulcers, Upsets

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the difference between a stomach ulcer and a nervous stomach? My doctor thinks I have an ulcer but he is treating me for both conditions.

A—A stomach ulcer is an organic disease but it is aggravated by worry, anger or anxiety. That is why your doctor is attacking your problem on two fronts. The typical ulcer pain is localized with a finger tip just above the navel and comes on an hour or two after eating. The person who has a nervous stomach has a vague pain throughout the abdomen that may be present immediately after eating. It is likely to occur when the victim is nervously upset without any relation to the time of eating.

A doctor does not usually like to make a definite diagnosis of ulcer without X-ray proof, because there is a great deal of variation in the way these conditions affect different individuals.

Q—What causes intercostal neuralgia and what can be done to get rid of it?

A—The most common cause of severe neuralgic pains between the ribs is shingles. The pains may persist long after the acute infection has subsided. Pills are of little use in treating this condition. If the pain is severe you should consider having the affected nerve injected with alcohol or, for more permanent relief, having the nerve cut.

Q—I am 42 years old and have had nystagmus all my life. What causes it and is there any cure?

A—Nystagmus is a rapid involuntary oscillation of the eyes. When it occurs in infancy it may be due to a retinal defect, an eye infection, congenital cataract or albinism. It may develop in later life in miners and in persons with multiple sclerosis, myasthenia gravis, or peripheral neuritis. Temporary nystag-mus is present in the type of dizziness induced by whirling around rapidly in one direction. Manganese poisoning and lead poisoning may also cause it. For most of these causes there is no cure.

Q—I am a model. About a year ago I began getting welts or hives on my body where my girdle or my shoes pressed on my skin. My doctor said I was allergic to the soap I was using. I changed soap and it gradually cleared up but now it has come back and my doctor doesn't know what is causing it. What should I do?

A—You do not say whether your doctor did a patch test when this trouble started to prove that your soap was the cause. If he doesn't know the cause of your present hives (usually some form of allergy), you should consult a skin specialist or an allergist.

Bleachers is an American term for the uncovered tiers of benches surrounding the outfield of a baseball diamond. The name probably originated from its obvious connection with early processes of bleaching articles by exposure to the sun.

LBJ and Mateos May Talk Of Cuba

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The most important result which could come out of the Johnson-Lopez Mateos talks is a new tack in our relations with Fidel Castro. The subject is almost certain to be discussed.

The president of Mexico is in the unique position where he is a good friend of the United States and has reasonably friendly relations with Cuba. He personally has no love for the grandstanding Cuban leader, but his country is sympathetic to the Cuban uprising because Mexico went through somewhat the same social revolution itself in 1910 when it seized American property, just as Castro has done, and had even bloodier relations with the United States.

During the period following the Mexican revolution, Pancho Villa raided across the border, robbing, pillaging, killing 16 Americans at Columbus, N.M. The great cattle ranches of Americans were seized. The armies of Madero, Obregon, Carranza, and Huerta fought back and forth, with American citizens, property, and goodwill caught in between.

For some twenty years, relations between the United States and Mexico could hardly have been worse. Lopez Mateos knows this, therefore understands the bitterness between Cuba and the United States better than any other Pan-American leader. There have been discreet queries by Mexico in the past suggesting the possibility of using its good offices to straighten out relations between its two neighbors. But the State Department has been cool.

However, certain new factors have developed inside Cuba which eventually will change the picture. Here are some of them:

1. Castro has stated publicly that he wants to improve relations with the United States. He stated this even in a speech in Moscow last May.

2. President Dorticos of Cuba, who doesn't always like Castro, has confided to foreign diplomats that Cuba must resume relations with the United States. The USA is too close, and its trade is too important, he said. He made the further statement that Cuba would be willing to pay for American property seized.

3. The Russians are getting weary of paying the foreign aid bill to Cuba—just as the American taxpayers are weary of foreign aid. There have been broad hints to the United States by Russian leaders that they hope Cuba and the United States can patch up their differences.

Upcoming U.S. elections make it difficult for any American president, no matter what his politics, to accept any compromise settlement with Cuba. Nevertheless, with our close allies the British and the French coming to Fidel Castro's economic rescue, it looks as if he is going to be around for some time, and the good offices of a friendly president of Mexico might be helpful.

LBJ's Latest Economy

House parliamentarian Lew Deschler, a longtime friend of LBJ, points out a new Johnson economy.

For years, Johnson always signed his name with a large scrawl, but he has reduced the size of his signature by about half since entering the White House.

"Obviously," says Deschler, "he is trying to save ink."

Con Mucho Gusto

As President Johnson meets Mexico's President Lopez Mateos, border trouble between the two countries has been all but wiped out.

Immigration Commissioner Ray Farrell, who heads the Border Patrol, has reported to the president that our southern border is now as peaceful as our northern border.

"Courtesy and cooperation" along both borders, he reported, have been high.

As an example, the Immigration Service helped arrange for a group of Mexican orphans and musicians to visit California's Disneyland last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Grimm, who accompanied the children, wrote a warm thank-you letter to the Immigration Service, reporting that the Mexican children were "thrilled."

"Above all," wrote the Grimms, "they will cherish the memory of how Americans opened up their hearts and homes to those of another nation. It was evident at the time of departure, by the embraces and tears, that both countries benefited by the visit."

"Four of the group will have their musical education guaranteed. One blind fellow is to be taken to our best eye specialist, since there is a possibility that his sight can be restored in one eye."

At Brownsville, Tex., immigration officials recently permitted busloads of Mexican musicians to cross the border and shop in Brownsville without red tape and individual inspection.

The grateful orchestra leader, Marques Salvador, also wrote a letter expressing his "sincere appreciation for the facilities and attention that we received during our brief stay."

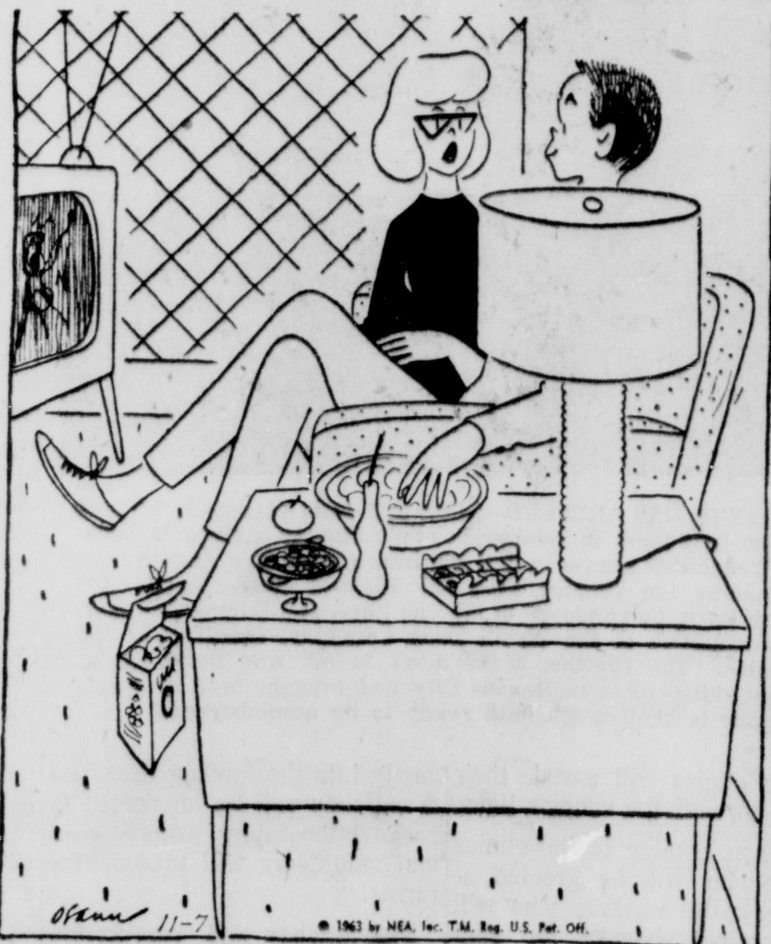

"All the members of the orchestra," he wrote, "remember you gratefully, and are sending you their most cordial greetings."

Reds in Thailand

The joint chiefs of staff are alarmed over the quiet infiltration by Communist organizers into Thailand from neighboring Laos. Thai leaders seem remarkably indifferent to this Communist threat which is gradually taking over the villages in the northern hinterlands.

The Red organizers wander from village to village, handing out free medicine with an accompanying dose of Communist propaganda. They have also promised the villagers money in return for help in taking over villages.

"Is this what we're going to do tonight—watch TV and eat? We might just as well be married!"

By Kate Osann

SEASON OPENING NEAR — As trout season's opener nears, the bug begins to "bite" sport fishermen and the scenes above and at left, taken March 1, 1963, at Bennett Springs State Park, give some idea of the number effected by the "bug." Many fishermen spend the night before the March 1 opening at trout fishing spots and others motor many miles in the wee hours of the morning so as to arrive and be ready to go when the day light siren screams the opening signal. (Democrat-Capitol photos)

By RALPH JONES

SHOW Biz has its opening nighters, stamp collectors seek out first-day covers and book collectors search the world over for first editions.

But these things mean absolutely nothing to the traditional Missouri trout season opener. Actually the trout season is open all year in Missouri, but to the first-dayers who attend the openers at Bennett Springs, Roaring River or Montauk State Park, the season opens March 1. (That's next Sunday) and ends October 31.

Sedalia, being located nearest to Bennett Springs make this their opening day headquarters, and to some people like Dick Monsees and Maurice Griffin this is the big day of the year. For the past 25 years, Griffin and Monsees have missed only "one or two" opening days, regardless of wind and weather.

This year Griffin and Monsees will probably be joined by Chuck Branson, who about three years ago landed a 13-pound, twelve ounce rainbow at Bennett, said to be the largest ever landed in Missouri. Among the old-timers Branson is a comparative newcomer, having only about ten openers, but he intends to eventually chalk up a record comparable to the oldest.

Dozens of other men in the Sedalia area also attend the traditional opener at Bennett. This group includes Circuit Judge Frank Hayes, Paul Hausam, Jimmy Dickman, W. C. Ream, Virgil Herrick and others.

Preparations for opening day begin early, around the first of January. Groups begin making plans, predicting the weather, and above all, making reservations for rooms so they can drive down the day before opening, case the area and be ready when the siren goes off early the following morning.

Men from the Sedalia area, along with hundreds of other opening dayers from all over the state, will travel to Bennett Saturday to map out strategy for the following day. They will move in their gear, clean and re-clean their fly lines and oil up their fly rods. They will prow the area, noting any changes in the stream since last year, and pick out a likely spot to station themselves a couple of hours before the siren sounds, signaling the opening of a new season.

This year they will probably have to add an hour or so to the waiting time (get there three hours ahead of the siren instead of two) because as the season opens Sunday, there will no doubt be a couple of hundred extra people present.

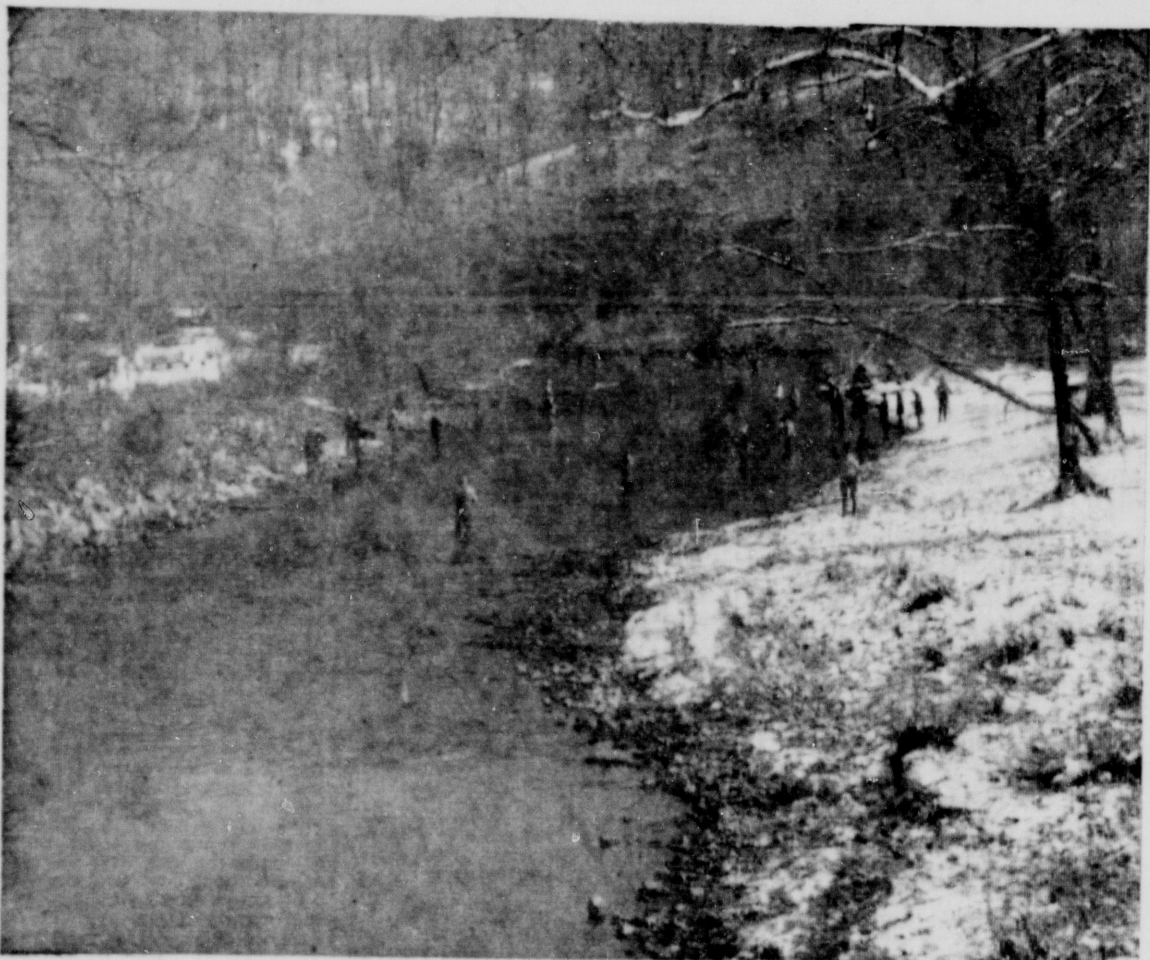

With thoughts of early rising in their minds, the anglers retire to their cabins, or a friend's cabin, to talk over past openers, make predictions about the weather, and perhaps spin a few yarns over the 'big ones' they have landed in past years.

Come morning, despite rain, snow, freezing drizzle or any other unpleasant circumstances the weatherman can dream up, the anglers are at their favorite spots, or as near as possible, ready to begin another year of trout fishing.

The old-timers will land some good ones. Less experienced anglers will get some strikes, and chances are they will land one or two. The inexperienced will almost land a few. But everyone will enjoy themselves.

WHAT THEY'RE AFTER—Sedalian Jack Cunningham displays the beauties that sport fishermen go to great lengths to net. The picture was taken March 1, 1963. Many of the first-dayer trout fishermen usually end the season with that one jaunt to their favorite stream, while others make regular trips throughout the season.

TYPICAL SCENE — As dawn breaks and sheds enough light for the camera, this scene is typical of a March 1 morning at Bennett Springs and other trout fishing streams across Missouri. As seen here, a blanket of snow covered the ground for the 1963 opener but the temperature had little effect on the number present for the opening day. With March 1 falling on a Sunday this year, the number of trout fishermen out for the opener is expected to be staggering.

Gambling-- An Incurable 'Sickness'

By DAVID MAZZARELLA

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mr. I. sat in a movie theater, engrossed in the film. The excitement grew as the scene shifted to a gambling casino. And Mr. I. squirmed, tortured.

A compulsive gambler, he couldn't bear to see gambling without getting into the action. He quickly left the movie.

In 35 years of daily gambling, Mr. I.—who is 55—lost half a million dollars, a business and his wife. The only thing he saved was sleeping pills for the day he'd hit rock-bottom and give up completely.

But now he is in Gamblers Anonymous, a group similar to Alcoholics Anonymous, which seeks to keep men from gambling a day at a time. Mr. I. hasn't gambled for more than 500 days, his wife is back with him and he has a steady job.

He's slowly paying off $75,000 he still owes from his gambling days, giving one-third of his $15,000-a-year income as an investment advisor to his creditors. About $55,000 is owed to family members who aren't being paid yet.

"You see, I know gambling is an incurable disease," he says. "All I can do is arrest the sickness. I fight it day by day. When I get up in the morning, I tell myself I'm not going to make a bet that day."

Gamblers Anonymous, which began in Los Angeles seven years ago, tells its members they have this incurable disease.

Chapters around the country hold weekly meetings at which members stand up and talk about their gambling experiences. Some have criminal records from the days they needed money so badly they would do anything to get it.

Mr. I. says that for 35 years he thought he could abstain from gambling at any time. But he found he was wrong.

"You don't know what it's like to be a compulsive gambler," he says. "Slowly, he drew a hand across his stomach, as if the illness was indeed physical and imbedded there. "The utter desolation and loss when you're down and out. And you can't stop."

"Once I won $45,000 in Vegas in one day. I went to California, looked at the money, figured I could make it into $90,000 and went back to Vegas. In no time I'd lost that $45,000 and another $15,000 I borrowed from the casino."

Why does a man gamble compulsively?

Some point to deep psychological reasons — neglect in childhood, a subconscious desire to lose.

There have been numerous studies of the problem. One was conducted by Dr. Donald J. Lewis, chairman of the Rutgers University psychology department, who took three groups — college students, children and rats — and broke each into three small divisions.

He set up controlled games of chance for each group, and provided rewards.

The college students played slot machines, the children guessed which buttons to press for a toy, and the rats had to run down a certain path to get food.

One division in each group was made to win all the time, another to win part of the time and the third to lose all the time.

At a given point, all rewards were stopped. The idea was to see which division — the constant losers, the constant winners or those who both won and lost — would quit playing first.

Dr. Lewis says he found that among all the students, children and rats, the results were constant: Those who won less played the longest after the rewards stopped coming.

He says other psychologists have tried similar experiments with other "organisms"—dogs, cats, etc.

The results are always the same, he says. The more they lose, the more they play.

Bride Slays Hubby On Honeymoon

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Without apparent emotion, a 21-year-old brunette bride of four days heard herself charged in court Wednesday with stabbing her husband to death with a carving knife — one of the wedding gifts.

"This is a medical case, not a criminal one," insisted a lawyer for Mrs. Mary Ann Hallenbeck, 21, of Blackwell, Okla.

Her husband, Terry Hallenbeck, 23, an Air Force enlisted man, was slain Tuesday while he was unpacking their bags at their honeymoon apartment.

Mrs. Hallenbeck stared directly into the sun all during a mile-long walk from the city jail to the municipal courtroom. During the proceedings before Judge James Duvaras, she sat rigidly, changing her position only at the suggestion of her brother, Steve Le Valle, a hospital intern in Denver.

The accused woman's attorney, John Cost, said he has engaged Dr. Walter Rapaport, medical director of Agnews State Hospital, to examine her.

Three psychiatrists examined her Wednesday before her court appearance. There was no report of their findings.

Back in Blackwell, the woman's aunt, Mrs. Edna Kyrner, said Mary Ann underwent psychiatric treatment during four semesters at the University of Oklahoma.

Preliminary hearing in the case was set for Friday at 3 p.m.

Williams said volunteers from the Citizen Band Radio Club, Sedalia PTA groups, DeMolays, Gray Ladies, Red Cross, the licensed practical nurses association and the registered nurses group are taking part.

Another program designed to answer questions about the "Sabin on Sunday" clinic is set for 9 p.m. Friday night on KMOStV, Channel 6 here. Persons may telephone their questions to the station and they will be answered by a panel of medical experts and officials of the Sabin program.

residents in the area, but noted that the stretch of road is open and difficult for officers to observe without being seen by would-be dragsters. Couts hid his patrol car midway up the lane leading to Buena Vista.

Starting line of the improvised strip is vividly marked with side-by-side tire marks for accelerating autos and points of each gear shift ma, clearly be seen as one proceeds up the racing route.

After halting Wheatley, Couts said he pursued Meredith's car through Georgetown and out Route H, across Muddy Creek bridge and finally passed Meredith to bring the car to a halt. Couts said he encountered some difficulty in controlling his car as he rounded a curve to the right and sped across the wooden-floored bridge.

Sheriff Fairfax noted problems in breaking up such racing as he said the drivers usually check the area closely before beginning. On patrol Fairfax said he and Couts had come upon cars at the scene which appeared set for a race, but dispersed when the officers arrived. Pursuing the cars in attempts to elude officers poses another threat to other motorists on the road.

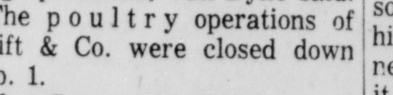

The drag racing incident was the second this week in Sedalia and Pettis County and the second brought before the Magistrate Court. Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr made two arrests Monday after a high speed chase out North Limit.

Collision With Train

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai's motorcade and a speeding express train narrowly missed colliding on a grade crossing Thursday. The train flashed over the crossing just ahead of cars bearing the Red Chinese leader and his party to the tomb of Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike, who was assassinated in 1959.

Police halted the party in time.

for a parking area and in shipping operations, Van Dyne said. The poultry operations of Swift & Co. were closed down Feb. 1.

Van Dyne said the purchase of the building is a continuation of Adco's plan to expand whenever and wherever possible, and the expansion of the sales and jobber force made this necessary.

"Our present building was simply not big enough," Van Dyne said.

He added that negotiations for the purchase of the Swift building got under way soon after Swift announced on Jan. 18 that the firm's Sedalia operation would close down Feb. 1.

Democratic Factions For Phillips

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Most of Kansas City's major Democratic factions lined up Tuesday behind the candidacy of County Judge Hunter H. Phillips for the party nomination as 5th District congressman and thereby dealt veteran Rep. Richard W. Bolling the worst political setback he has experienced in 16 years in office.

In previous campaigns most of the factions along with organized labor have supported the 47-year-old Bolling. Several times he has been without primary opposition.

Bolling, regarded as liberal in his views, was a protégé of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn. He was a leader of a group that fought to bring the civil rights bill to a vote in the House.

He was divorced on Jan. 8 by Mrs. Barbara Bolling, mother of their 13-year-old daughter, and five days later he married Mrs. Jim Atkin, a Texas woman known as a heavy contributor to the Democratic Party.

Phillips has been one of Jackson County's three judges since 1955, the same kind of office once held by former President Harry S. Truman. He was at odds for a while with some of the faction leaders but his endorsement by a group of them today apparently solidified his position enough to make him a favorite over Bolling in pre-election speculation.

Lining up for Hunter at a luncheon were Harry Gallagher, Louis Wagner, Dan T. McKeever, Victor DeMaría and Bernard W. Gnefkow. Joining them were lesser factions headed by William Nordberg, Ben Gibson, Donald May and Roy Dorsey.

The only major factor not aligned is that controlled by the Aylward family.

Trotters

Win Over Opposition

The Harlem Globetrotters, as expected, won the basketball exhibition at Smith-Cotton High School Thursday night, defeating the San Francisco (Calif.) Golden Gaters 93 to 83. It was a game mostly of entertainment on the part of the Trotters, who displayed their various acts in handling the basketball.

A local "touch" was inserted into the game when Foster McGuire, a Smith-Cotton High School coach was "drafted" to officiate over the game. The referee which accompanies the teams on the tour was called back to his home because of illness in his family and McGuire was "elected." In spite of the antics pulled by the "Trotters" on the floor, McGuire survived.

The Globetrotters moved out front in the first quarter by six points 29-23, led at the half 51-41 had a 15-point edge at the end of the third quarter, 75-60, with the "Gaters" pulling within 10 points in the final quarter, 93-83.

The halftime entertainment was an excellent vaudeville show and was enjoyed by the some 1,200 spectators.

The game was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars with Jack Alpert, which will split the net proceeds with the Children's Therapy Center.

Bush Endorsed By Kansas City Star Thursday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Lt. Gov. Hilary A. Bush was endorsed Thursday by the Kansas City Star for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"For our part, we believe Lt. Gov. Hilary A. Bush is a better prospect for Missouri's top office than Warren E. Hearnes, secretary of state," the Star said in its leading editorial. "And the Democratic primary now appears to have settled down definitely to a battle between these two men."

The editorial said the Star believes this is one of the most important Missouri Democratic primaries in many years, and added:

"We believe the available evidence adds up heavily on the side of Hilary Bush."

The Star said it did not see

Communism Explained To Kiwanis

A talk on the background of Communism, how its exponents operated in the past and their methods today was given by Judge Alden Stockard, of the Missouri Supreme Court, Jefferson City, before fellow Kiwanians at a meeting of the Sedalia club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker also gave a short historical sketch on George Washington and told of the voluminous biographical records available about him in the Library of Congress.

Judge Stockard was introduced by Robert Fritz, program chairman, who was presented a certificate of appreciation by President M. L. Edwards in recognition of the excellent programs he arranged during February.

Invocation was by John Ryan. Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Mrs. Keith Maynard, accompanist. Birthday greetings were sung for Victor Scott.

As an aftermath of the club's pancake day ticket sales, the losing teams were supposed to eat beans and the winning team steaks at the meeting but President Edwards announced beans were not available so everybody ate steaks.

On behalf of the club, President Edwards presented a framed certificate of appreciation and a cake inscribed "555" to A. H. Wilks who sold that number of tickets for pancake day, a record exceeding one-third of the total number of tickets sold by the entire membership.

George Ray, chairman of Pancake Day, reported the following results on the ticket sale: Capt. William Schien's team, $442; Capt. Morton Witzinger's team, $371.50; Capt. John W. St. Clair's team, $855.50, for a total of $1,669.00. Net proceeds were $1,154.33 which will be used for the club's charitable and educational activities.

Explosion Derails 32 Train Cars

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — A dynamite blast hurled five diesel locomotives and 27 cars of a Florida East Coast Railway freight train from the tracks Thursday. Several hours later, a second explosion ripped out track on an alternate route just ahead of a northbound freight.

FEC officials said the second explosion occurred about 18 miles west of St. Augustine, and about 15 miles from Palatka, where President Johnson was breaking ground for the Florida Cross-State Barge Canal.

"We don't yet know to what extent the track is damaged, other than they did blow some track up out there," said Pete Taylor, FEC general superintendent of transportation.

Taylor said the second blast occurred a short time before a freight train to have crossed the spot on its way to St. Augustine.

The freight, composed of 190 cars, was just behind the freight which was derailed earlier. It had been routed to the alternate tracks.

Taylor said the second blast cut off all available FEC tracks "At least for the time being."

The earlier blast shook the community of Du Pont Center. The explosion, bringing renewed violence into the 13-month-old strike, ripped into the underside of the lead locomotive. Its engineer was cut by flying glass, but no crew members were injured seriously.

As it has in more than 200 cases of violence along the Miami-to-Jacksonville line, the railroad blamed saboteurs for the dynamiting.

Officials of 11 nonoperating unions, who called 1,300 workers off their jobs Jan. 23, 1963, in a wage dispute, have consistently denied involvement. The wreckers, they said, hurt the union's cause as much as the railroad.

The violence brought the federal government into the dispute and Wednesday inspired a congressional bill to force the Florida Du Pont Estate to dispose of the railroad.

Area of the Great Lakes is equal to the combined spread of Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and four Denmarks.

"A similar urgency in the Republican primary."

"Ethan A. H. Shepley, former chancellor of Washington University, appears virtually certain to become the party's nominee for governor," the editorial said.

Man Bites Dog; Dog Bites Man

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—A man bit a dog here Wednesday night, police Sgt. Bill Humphries said Thursday. The animal, a police patrol dog, bit back in self-defense.

Humphries said the dog surprised an African breaking into a theater, chased the man, who turned and grappled with it, biting it on the right ear.
